6th Ward Hears Commission to Study Housing

Mayor Will Name New GroupSoon

Plan Announced By Yerry to P-TA

Mayor Frederick H. Stang is planning to appoint a committee in the near future to study the housing situation in the city, it was announced Wednesday night by George E. Yerry Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority, in a talk before the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 3.

Mayor Stang said in reply to a question this morning that he was going to appoint a committee to study the situation, "with the particular view of building up downtown depressed areas."

He added that "urban renewal might be the answer."

The Kingston Common Council rejected a proposal for a public housing project in the Fourth Ward several months ago.

Authorized to Tell

Mr. Yerry told the meeting last night that he had met Tuesday with the mayor and federal officials to discuss recent interpretations of housing law in connection with his talk before the P-TA. It was at that time, he said, that the mayor had authorized him to announce that he would appoint a committee to study and recommend a program for better city housing.

This committee—to be known as the Kingston Development Commission—would work in close liaison with the mayor to determine the best methods of creating better housing in the city, particularly in the depressed areas.

Explains Program

Mr. Yerry pointed out that under an urban renewal plan the federal government paid two-thirds of the cost of acquiring properties in the proposed renewal area and the city one-third.

The cost of acquiring property consists of the actual purchase price plus taxes in effect on the property, he said. The total cost is reduced by the amount of proceeds realized by sale of properties to private people—that is, the sale of properties to private enterprise to be developed in line with a preconceived plan.

The city's one-third of the cost can be in cash or services, he explained. Services may consist of such things as installation of new streets, sewers, water lines, public utilities, etc., if required.

School Considered

If a new school should be located in the renewal area the federal government contributes to the cost of building such a school in proportion to the number of pupils in the rebuilt area attending the school.

The value of a school in the area, if it should be torn down,

IBM Official Is Named To Aid Advance Gifts

RICHARD J. WHALEN
Division Vice Chairman

Richard J. Whalen will serve as vice-chairman of the Corporate Advance Gifts Division of the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing and Residence $400,000 building fund campaign.

The assistant general manager of the Kingston Military Products Division of International Business Machines Corporation, IBM will work with Edward K. Lefren, division chairman, who made the announcement today.

Whalen came to Kingston in October, 1954, as plant superintendent. About a year later, he was appointed manager of engineering, and last April assumed his present position.

The vice-chairman became associated with IBM at its Poughkeepsie plant in November, 1946. He first worked in the assembly department and then served as manager of calculator assembly, project engineer of electronic calculator engineering, project manager of electronic data processing machine assembly and manager of computer manufacturing.

A native of Poughkeepsie, Whalen was graduated from Arlington High School there. He holds a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Clarkson College of Technology, at Potsdam, N. Y. During World War 2, he served in the army signal corps.

He is a member of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, the Institute of Radio Engineers, Kingston Rotary Club and the Mid-Hudson chapter of the Clarkson Alumni Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Whalen and their four children reside in Hurley.

The Corporate Advance Gifts Division of the campaign will begin its activity with a meeting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 6, at the hospital.

The campaign will seek to raise a minimum of $400,000 to be used to build a new school of nursing and residence at Benedictine Hospital. Estimated to cost at least $1,000,000, the balance of the funds needed for construction will come from previous bequests and contributions, a gift from the Ford Foundation and a mortgage.

Benedictine Hospital's present nurses' home was built in 1920 to accommodate 18 students. Thirty students, however, are being housed in it. Forty-two others are living in houses which the hospital has purchased as an expedient.

The proposed building will accommodate 100 students.

Hopes Are Good On Span Opening, Ferry Continuing

Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry service, weather permitting, will continue until early in January when it is hoped the new bridge will be open to traffic, Edward J. Burns, administrative officer of the New York State Bridge Authority said today.

Opening of the bridge early in January as planned, is also largely dependent upon the weather ahead, but it was indicated today that work has been progressing satisfactorily toward that end.

An estimated 1,500 feet of sidewalk and curbing, was still due to be finished as of today. Pouring of concrete on the west approach was reported progressing satisfactorily and railing is being placed as the other work progresses.

It was indicated that work on the temporary macadam section to adjoin the west approach with Route 32, will not start until all concrete is poured on the approach.

Everything now appears to depend on sufficient warm weather for curing of the concrete, but all work, as now scheduled, is aimed at an opening date in January.

Harriman Wants Social Security For Pension Class

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has endorsed Social Security coverage for a half million government workers contributing to public pension plans.

He said in a statement yesterday that he had approved proposed legislation that would make teachers, New York city employes and 80,000 state workers eligible for the coverage.

The respective employers would bear the cost. Harriman estimated state payments would total six million dollars if all employes were covered.

The legislation will be introduced in the 1957 legislature.

Republican leaders said last month that they intended to introduce legislation that would make supplemental social security benefits available to 179,000 state and local-government

Vehicle Plates On Sale Monday

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Motor Vehicle registration plates for 1957 go on general sale Monday in New York state.

Vehicle owners will receive two plates for the new year. Since 1951, the state has issued either a single plate or tab for the previous year's plate.

The new plates will be 6 by 12 inches, the new, national standard size. Automobile plates have been 6⅜ by 13 7/16 inches.

Colors for 1957 will be orange letters and numerals on black.

To obtain new plates, vehicle owners must submit a certificate of insurance under the state's compulsory insurance law. The law provides for establishing financial responsibility in the amount of $25,000 as an alternative to filing an insurance certificate.

About five million vehicles will be registered for 1957.

Expiration dates for 1956 plates are: Dec. 31, buses, taxicabs and ambulances; Jan. 10, dealers; Jan. 15, other commercial, trailers, suburbans and farm vehicles; Jan 31, passenger cars and motorcycles.

559 Hungarian Refugees Already Reach Jersey Army Center, More Due Today

Camp Kilmer, N. J., Nov. 29 (AP)—A total of 559 refugees from Communist Hungary have now entered this army reception center and another group is due from Austria today.

The seventh and eighth planeloads since "Operation Mercy" began touched down at nearby McGuire Air Force Base during the night, the last one a shuttle hop from LaGuardia Field arranged after the flight developed engine trouble.

The air force said the Transamerican Airlines plane, bringing 74 refugees from Vienna, landed at LaGuardia Field in New York after one of its engines failed. The refugees were transferred to another plane and flown on here in 25 minutes, landing at 12:45 a. m. today.

About three hours earlier, another airliner arrived at McGuire from Linz, Austria, also bearing 74 Hungarian fugitives from Communist terror.

They brought to 559 the number of refugees who have arrived at this resettlement center since President Eisenhower ordered 5,000 admitted by the end of the year.

Another flight was due to arrive at McGuire at 4 p. m. today.

Another flight was due to arrived during the night had string shopping bags with them. Others carried their few belongings in paper cartons.

Some wore leather boots and long leather coats. The clothing of others was obviously too light for the chill night weather.

Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, First Army commander, inspected the reception center yesterday and said things are going smoothly.

"We admit that we are not running a Waldorf-Astoria here," Gen. Herren said, "but we are doing the best we can and we have received no complaints."

He referred to published criticism that refugees are being regimented and officials are not cooperating with welfare agencies. Such criticism is "ill-advised," Herren said.

Herren said the representatives of six refugee relief agencies he has spoken to had no complaints about the handling.

Asked about possible complaints that Kilmer looks like a concentration camp, Herren said there is no resemblance. The refugees are free to leave at any time, he said, and it would be foolish to tear down the fences around the camp.

Katrine School Grounds Bond For $90,000 Defeated 112-35

Future Meetings Planned to Talk About Projects

A $90,000 bond issue for improvement of grounds at the Lake Katrine School was defeated by a vote of 112 to 35 Tuesday night.

The turnout was somewhat smaller than anticipated. There are approximately 1,000 qualified voters in Lake Katrine School District No. 4.

Further Talks Set

The board of trustees of the school issued a statement following the meeting in which it thanked the 147 voters who participated and pointed out that further discussions and meetings were anticipated in the near future "to determine to what extent the school site will be developed."

The board hopes that all qualified voters will attend such meetings. No date has been fixed for the first meeting but it will probably not come until after the Christmas holidays.

Items in Proposal

The proposed development which was defeated last night included landscaping of the ground adjacent to the school, removal of former buildings from the present grounds, a new water supply system secured from the water main on Neighborhood road.

Other proposed improvements included grading of the grounds, a drainage system and installation of drinking fountains and lawn sprinkler facilities. The bond issue would also provide a new parking area and a small children's play area.

Recreation Considered

The proposal provided also for the installation of recreational facilities including two basketball courts which would also serve for volley ball and tennis, two softball diamonds, speedball court, soccer field and 100-yard track. The area at the north of the school would have been graded for winter sports such as sliding and coasting.

A preliminary meeting was held at 2:30 p. m., as required by law. Only five persons were present. They elected Principal Edward R. Crosby as presiding officer.

Mr. Crosby in turn appointed William T. Hookey as chief inspector, assisted by Mrs. Marjorie Peterson. Mrs. Thelma Wanzor, clerk of the board, served as clerk for the meeting.

Members of the board are Joseph J. Benjamin, president, William Burke, Lester V. Felton, Norman Hammond and Mary Lamaro.

Premier Stands Firm Against Iraq Trouble

Baghdad, Iraq, Nov. 29 (AP)—Iraq's Premier Nuri Said is reported standing firm against a mounting campaign aimed at stirring up trouble in Iraq and discrediting his government. The controlling pro-Soviet army clique in Syria and the Egyptian government are believed sponsoring the campaign.

Khalil Ibrahim, Iraqi information director, declared the premier has no intention of quitting his post or making changes in his cabinet "for the time being."

The Baghdad military governor broadcast an appeal to the people urging them to be calm and not to yield to "subversive elements" which the government says are trying to incite widespread demonstrations.

Nuri's government denied reports that dozens of persons have been killed and wounded in Iraq's main cities. It reiterated that only two civilians were killed and some police and civilians wounded in a clash in the holy Moslem city of Najaf, in southwest Iraq.

Damascus radio declared 104 Iraqis were killed in four days of anti-government demonstrations in Najaf. It asserted the "victims fell by police fire" as they protested against Nuri's government and demanded support for Egypt. Iraq has accused Syria of waging a campaign of subversion against the Nuri government. Syria has charged Iraq with seeking to undermine the governments of both Syria and Jordan. Egyptian President Nasser is believed spurring the Syrians on.

Evidence of Syria's propaganda campaign is as marked in Baghdad as in Lebanon. It is sparked by radio broadcasts of inflammatory rumors.

Ibrahim asserted in an interview that the greatest danger in the Middle East comes from open efforts of world communism to attack Arab stability.

"One of the biggest dangers in the Arab world today," Ibrahim said, "is that 'the streets'

Relations Breakdown Stirs Administration

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United States is prepared to put into operation immediately an emergency oil aid plan for western Europe, officials said today, once Britain and France declared their intention to get their troops out of Egypt.

Dispatches from London indicated that the British and French governments already have made the basic decision for what the British call a "phased withdrawal." That means a step-by-step removal of their own forces as the United Nations police troops take over.

Demand Lightened

U. S. officials told the London and Paris governments several days ago that the United States would have to have public evidence of the British-French intentions respecting Egypt before it could start operating the emergency petroleum supply plan.

At the same time, informants said, it was made clear to the London and Paris governments that administrative leaders here were deeply disturbed over the progressive breakdown of friendly relations between the United States and its chief European allies and were anxious to act on oil as quickly as possible.

Good Intent Asked

Worry over growing ill will toward the United States in Britain and France apparently led to a decision that this government would not have to wait for actual withdrawal of British and French troops but could act upon a declaration of intent to withdraw.

The plans which have been worked out for emergency oil aid to Europe cover these main points:

1. Activating a Middle East emergency committee of 15 major oil companies with the task of using all available oil tankers, including some to be taken from laid up reserves, in order to transport the largest amount of petroleum to the European markets.

2. A comparable pooling on the

Director Ballots Mailed Out by CC

Ballots for the election of seven directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were mailed to all members today.

The ballot contains 14 names, nominees resulting from a previous membership vote. The 14 persons, in alphabetical order, are as follows:

A. R. Atkins, Roland Augustine, Bert Bishop, J. Ellis Briggs, A. W. Buddenhagen, H. I. Etchells, Richard M. Kalish, George Mustaparta, Robert N. Nadler, Stuart S. Randall, Howard C. St. John, George W. Schneider, Paul F. Steinkuller and Clyde Wonderly, Jr.

On the ballot the names are listed in the order of nominating votes as required in the by-laws.

The election committee will meet Monday evening, Dec. 10, to canvass the votes. Therefore, only balolts received on or before December 10 can be counted. Chamber President George J. Silkworth suggests that all members fill out and return the election ballots promptly in the return envelope provided.

The seven elected wil serve for a term of three years.

Evacuation By Steps Is Favored

Lloyd Will Make StatementMonday

London, Nov. 29 (AP)—The British government announced today its policy calls for a "phased withdrawal" of British forces from Egypt.

Total Action Asked

The United Nations last Saturday called for immediate and total withdrawal of British, French and Israeli forces.

Lord Salisbury, the government leader in the House of Lords, told the upper chamber tonight:

"Our policy is that of a phased withdrawal.

"I understand that a battalion has already left."

Shortly before Salisbury spoke, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons he was deferring a final statement on withdrawal pending consultations here tomorrow with French Foreign Secretary Christian Pineau. He said he would make a further statement Monday.

At the same time Lloyd strongly hinted that a step-by-step withdrawal was contemplated. After paying tribute to the United Nations for its continuing military buildup in the Suez area, Lloyd declared:

"Obviously the buildup of the force must have an important relationship to a phased withdrawal of our own and French troops."

Will Help Clear Canal

A qualified informant said last night the British plan is to begin within a few days a withdrawal in stages, but to leave behind a Royal Navy unit and civilian salvage experts who would help the United Nations clear the Suez Canal.

Lloyd told the House:

"The UN force has now been constituted and is growing in numbers, and I pay tribute to the speed with which the Secretary General and his advisers have acted.

"By Dec. 1, there will be about 2,700 men in Egypt and within 14 days there should be about 4,400, among which will be some 700 Canadian troops."

Lloyd said there should be an organized UN force on the ground within two weeks, with two armored car companies and supporting units."

Without elaborating on the "phased withdrawal," he went on to say that other important matters to be considered are the "speedy clearance of the canal and the negotiation of a final settlement with regard to the future operation of the canal."

Cheers Halt Speech

Loud cheering from the Conservative benches interrupted him here. Then the foreign secretary said decisions on these matters had to be discussed with the French.

Referring to the UN General Assembly debates on Suez, Lloyd described as "unrealistic" a resolution, supported by the United States, demanding an immediate withdrawal of British and French forces.

But he added:

"I found the atmosphere in the United Nations considerably improved and a wider understanding of our positions in certain sections of American opinion."

U. S. support for the "immediate withdrawal" resolution has sparked anti-American feeling in Britain, especially among the rightwing segment of the Conservative party. A group of 122 Conservatives have put in a resolution "deploring" the American policy and condemning the UN resolutions.

General Debate Due

Before Lloyd spoke, R. A. Butler, acting in place of the vaca-

City Laws Now Broken

Eau Claire, Mich. (AP) — The town treasury will get fatter now that it's once more possible to break a city law in Eau Claire. The city ordinances were somehow lost two years ago and a new 40-page set of laws has just been compiled and approved. For two years offenders had to be prosecuted under state laws and fines went to the state instead of the city.

1957 Frigidaire Appliances Here

Joseph Scholar & Son, 65 North Front street, announced today that it has just received new 1957 Frigidaire appliances designed to "build-in, blend-in or fit into nearly any kitchen arrangement and color scheme."

Mr. Scholar described the new styling as "clean squared-up lines so popular in today's architecture and functional interior design. He said styling experts were predicting that the concept would touch off a whole new trend in appliance design that would sweep the country in chain-reaction fashion.

The 1957 Frigidaire appliances are styled and designed so that the homemaker can have a kitchen with a built-in look without necessarily making expensive room and cabinet alterations when new equipment is installed.

Mr. Scholar explained that the "thrilling new squared-up styling makes it possible for the appliances to blend into a kitchen setting with building-block simplicity." The new appliances come in a provocative array of exterior colors, such as charcoal gray, Mayfair pink, Stratford yellow, Sherwood green and Snowcrest white.

NEEDS OF EDUCATION

Time was when a high school diploma was something rather special. Time was—and not so very long ago, either, when a man with a college education was a rare creature. Those things are no longer true. The great bulk of our young people go through high school, and there are millions of college graduates.

Keep these facts in mind. Add to them the additional fact that the nation's facilities for higher education are under a heavy strain because of the large number of students. Stir all this briskly with the prediction, apparently well grounded, that within 10 to 15 years the number of college students will be doubled. Result: What used to be called a pretty kettle of fish.

It is a kettle of fish that is attracting educators' serious attention. They are worried about how to provide enough buildings and other facilities to handle the oncoming flood of college students. They are even more worried about where to find enough competent teachers to train the students.

A point that needs making is this, that these worries are not the concern of educators alone. The public as a whole must be concerned also, because continuing success as a nation will depend increasingly on the amount and quality of education we can provide for the rising generation.

The President's Committee on Education Beyond High School declared in its recent interim report, "It is already clear that present resources will be grossly inadequate." That puts the issue squarely. It will be up to the public, either through government or by other means, to provide adequate resources.

A WORTHY RECORD

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, retiring ambassador to Italy, has not always had the easiest time of it. But accounts from Italy indicate she has earned the rest she now seeks from her unfortunate illness. For she is widely credited with having done an excellent job.

When she represented Connecticut in the U. S. House during the 1940's, she was an articulate but often controversial figure. Later she sought her state's Senate nomination but failed to make it.

Then President Eisenhower named her ambassador to Rome and the Italians complained at the idea of a woman being named to a major diplomatic post.

But Mrs. Luce bent all her will and energy to learning her job, to understanding the Italian people and their problems. She rode out the steady barrage of Communist jokes against her. When her retirement was announced, leading Italian papers paid high tribute to her work. They see her as a true friend and helper.

An ambassador's impression on a foreign land is far from the sole measure of his usefulness. But it is a powerful sign of effectiveness in diplomacy. Mrs. Luce has gained her credits.

REVULSION OF YOUTH

One of the long run consequences of the Soviet butchery of Hungarian liberty is to be seen in the revulsion of so many youths in Europe, as well as in both of the Americas. Press dispatches reveal that many of those who demonstrated and protested half way across the world were young people.

As far as Western civilization is concerned, the masters of the Kremlin and remaining loyal Communist leaders in the West can write off the youth. In recent years, the Communist appeal to youth has sharply declined. Now it is close to nil.

In time, this should have its effect on Asian and African youth. Many of these study in Western universities and are in contact with the youth of the West. Some of them will carry back to their own countries a sense of the spirit of revulsion which youth is beginnng to feel towards the Czars of the Kremlin. That revulsion is one of the most hopeful indications that communism will eventually fall.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

FEAR OF WAR

Let us start on the premise that nobody likes war and that nobody wants World War III ever to occur. From that premise, we must logically move to the next one which is that if nations persist in emphasizing their fear of war, will not one nation assume that all others are cowards and take a chance?

There are three reasons why this may be Soviet Russia's best and even last opportunity to make a universal war:

1. It is now clearly evident, as Nikolai Krokhlov, former member of Soviet Intelligence, pointed out on "Meet the Press," that the revolt against Communism is developing not only in the satellite countries but within Soviet Russia. Were it not so, Khrushchev would never have consented to resurrect Molotov.

2. Soviet Russia's conduct in Hungary has not yet separated her allies in Asia and Africa but it has had a frightening influence which was so sharp that it caused Nehru to change his position swiftly—so swiftly, in fact, that Krishna Menon could not catch up with him. Although more emphasis has been put on the Egyptian situation, in history it will be as small as the point of a pin compared with the revolt in the Soviet satellites which can change the course of history.

3. From a Russian standpoint, the Egyptian affair is important for only one factor: It has finally loosened the bonds between the United States, Great Britain and France. That means that NATO is weakened. That means that it will not be too long before the British and the French will ask what good NATO is, what good American bases are.

This is therefore a good time for Soviet Russia to try to bring on a war and Shepilov's conduct in the United Nations is evidence that the Spirit of Geneva is dead. But the Administration in Washington has pledged itself to peace and the Russians can afford to gamble on how far they can push President Eisenhower around.

This is a matter not of politics but of temperament and no one can possibly tell at what point President Eisenhower will take no more guff from the Kremlin.

Khokhlov made this point, in answer to a question as to what the United States can do, on "Meet the Press":

"First, to detach themselves from the fear of the third war, third world war. You see I can only quote some words of Hungarian rebels who told our contact in Hungary, I mean our underground there, and he told the Western Powers are only sissies to tremble so much before the Soviet threats of war. Now that is probably to realize that if you even do not want to go to fight you have to be prepared for that. I will quote you a small thing, that the delegation of Italy proposed to the United Nations to send volunteers to Hungary. Now it wouldn't mean a war. But an American delegation with all their previous firm stand opposed that because they said it could raise the chances of war."

It would seem that the issue in the world at this moment is "peace at any price" versus "liberty at any price." The arbiter has become Soviet Russia which can withhold peace and deprive of liberty. But the rest of the human race surely cannot tolerate a situation which would make them slaves if they wished to remain alive or dead if they wished to be free.

While it is possible to palliate and mitigate and explain away for a time, inevitably men will strive for freedom and upon that rock other empires have cracked. Soviet Russia's gimmick of associating Marxism with imperialism has run its course as Tito so clearly stated in his speech of November 11 which is a complete indictment of Stalinism spoken by a Communist and which had wide circulation in all Communist countries. At any rate, "Pravda" devoted a good part of an issue to denouncing Tito, and Molotov was appointed to an important position to indicate a return to Stalinism.

The situation is adding up to a disaster and the blame will have to be carried by those who have appeased Soviet Russia with improvisations and rationalizations since 1945, with the result that the Kremlin has been encouraged to believe that great chances might be taken and no retaliation need be anticipated. That is always dangerous because it is almost an invitation to the establishment of conditions that lead to war.

That Body of Yours

EXPOSURE TO RADIATION

"Because of the wide publicity given to conflicting statements, there has been much confusion in the public mind regarding the long-range effects on the human race of exposure to various ionizing rays. The statements that atomic explosions caused no damage to descendents of the people in the bombed cities of Japan on the one hand and that atom bomb testing has already seriously undermined the genetic (method of production) basis of all mankind on the other hand both present extremes which are in error. It is important that the truth be recognized."

I am quoting from an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association which goes on to say that all radioactive materials, whether naturally occurring radium or artificially produced isotopes, emit rays, the most important of which from the genetic standpoint are the gamma rays. In emitting such rays these elements undergo a process of decay or transformation. X-rays used chiefly for medical diagnostic purposes may also, by their scattered radiation, provide a significant amount of genetic damage.

The effects of the radiations to which we are all exposed have been studied intensively by several committees of the National Academy of Science. It has been found, as with most things on earth, processes involving radiation are neither good nor bad in themselves. When properly understood and handled they may be made to serve mankind in useful ways but, like fire and electricity, their potential dangers must be known and appropriate precautions taken when they are so used.

A certain amount of radiation, emanating from cosmic rays and other natural sources, have always been present in our surroundings. This is called background radiation, and it is estimated that in 30 years the average dose to which the gonads (the sex glands) are exposed is between 4.3 and 4.4. r, depending on the altitude at which a person lives, because the exposure is greater at higher altitudes. The period of 30 years is chosen because most children are born before their parents are over 30 years old. It is further estimated that in the first 30 years of life the average exposure from diagnostic X-rays is about 3 r. Radioactive fall-out from testing atomic weapons, if such testing were to be carried on at the present rate, would give an average 30-year exposure of about 0.1 r, although estimates vary from 0.02 to 0.5 r. In any case, as compared with that from medical diagnostic X-rays, it is small but nevertheless significant.

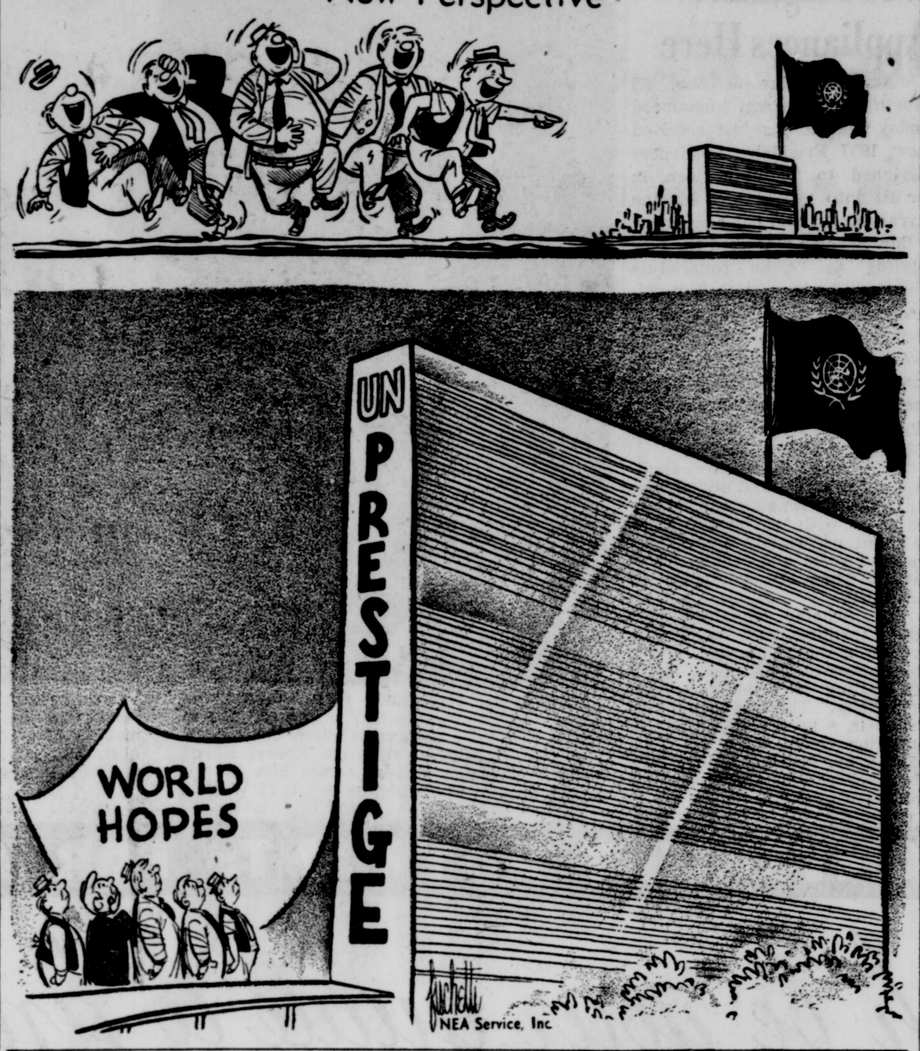

Genes (any hereditary factor) are present in all body cells and mutations (changes) in these genes may be produced by heat, chemical action, or radiation. Such changes are of significance only when they involve the reproductive cells. A certain amount of mutation has always taken place as a result of background radiation, but every added source of radiation increases the chances for additional mutations. Mutant genes tend to die out so that for maximal effect they must be present in both parents, but even in a "sleeping" stage, they are carried along from generation to generation. They almost always lead to some harmful effect, so that the offspring inheriting the new characteristic may be stillborn, or so handicapped as to be unable to survive, or handicapped for life with a defect that shortens life or reduces fertility.

Tomorrow we will report a little farther on the long-range effect of exposure to radiation.

New Perspective

Washington News

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — On election day the American public registered its confidence in the state of the President's health. And if there were still any lingering doubts among observers in this town about it, such doubts have now been erased.

The strain of the campaign, plus the extra burden of the recent crisis since, have actually appeared to tone up the President, rather than wear him down. At his recent press conferences and other public appearances he has never looked better.

The President's color has been excellent. He has been alert, bouncy and in top spirits, which of course doesn't imply that he's not taking the current world troubles seriously.

At the start of his campaign doctors watched him as closely as it's possible to police the health of a man. He had two physical exams daily plus frequent other checks. All of the information was studied regularly by several specialists in addition to the regular White House doctors.

WHEN IKE stepped up the pace of his campaign in the final month his doctors were at first mildly apprehensive, then amazed. The traveling and talking, they discovered, were a tonic to him. Then when the foreign developments forced him to cancel the last of his campaign trips he was able to take the extra effort and demands on his time in easy stride.

Now, with the full approval of his doctors, he has assumed a schedule of daily work which is actually more rigorous than before his heart attack.

The other day, for example, he kept the nine scheduled visitors' appointments, plus the extra ones which are usually sandwiched in. Actually, the list of appointments which is given out the prior evening is no real index to the number of persons who visit the President, especially during a period of crisis. Cabinet members and other officials get in to see him automatically when they have a special need.

WHEN POSSIBLE these days Ike still attempts to get in a brief swim sometime before noon and then have a rest and lunch, in that order. If one of these rituals has to be sacrificed, it's the swim. The rest is sacrificed next. And if things are really humming the President will make his lunch serve as a business conference.

Frequently, recently, he has used lunch as a meeting time with diplomatic representatives here. The illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has been partly responsible for this.

All of the luncheon guests during the past week, by the way, have commented on the good health of the President. The resounding support which the American people registered in him at the polls could be partly responsible for this, persons close to him say.

Not since he took office four years ago has he spent so much time on the long distance telephone, it is also reported. He leaves his office in the west wing about six and eats dinner about seven thirty.

HE USED TO rest or read during that interim. But the past several weeks he has devoted that time almost exclusively to talking to U. S. officials overseas. The time difference between Washington and Europe is partly responsible for this. But Ike's eagerness to keep in touch first hand with fast-moving developments in Europe and the Middle East is the main reason.

It is reported that the President feels that the current happenings abroad are the most significant of any which have taken place since he has been in office.

In spite of all this display of youthful vigor, Ike's doctors are still keeping careful watch of his health. He is getting the twice-daily physical check and his diet is rigidly supervised.

But these things have become strictly routine and there's an absence of concern over the state of his health among the persons around him.

So They Say..

It has been said of George Washington that he was first in peace, first in war and first in the hearts of his countrymen... the same applies to the President.
—Vice President Richard Nixon.

Policy to Fit Shifting Times Seen Only Course for U. S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 29—This is a time to keep things in prospective. It is not a time for recriminations. The outburst of anti-American feeling in the British and French press is understandable. Nobody likes oil rationing.

It wasn't the American government which blocked the Suez Canal or blew up the pipe lines in Syria. These were the consequences when national passions were aroused.

The problem now is how to cool things down—not how to inflame them more. The British editorials which point to the "disruption" of the Western Alliance—and the angry expressions of some of the conservatives in the British Parliament who think America is not cooperating in getting oil to Europe, but is chastising the British and French for their use of force—will not help move things toward a solution.

If there is to be a post-mortem on mistakes and errors of policy in the last few years Americans could refer back to the British restraint from using maximum military power in Korea and securing a victory there. Yet one of the London editorials proudly claims now that Britain "backed America to the hilt in Korea."

Canada Also Upset

It isn't all white or all black. To conduct international relations in a world of turmoil is very difficult, indeed, especially in a world that has not been truly stabilized for a long, long time.

America is not the only country where there is grave concern about what the British and French started when they sent their forces into the Suez area. Canada, too, is having its internal debate on the subject. Lester Pearson, Foreign Minister at Ottawa, says the whole British Commonwealth came near "dissolution" a fortnight or so ago. He asserts boldly that Canada will not be tied up either to Britain or to the United States in shaping policy.

Clearly any tendencies to "go it alone" are ominous. Even when the United States endeavors now to strengthen the United Nations—trying not to throw her influence to any side but merely pleading for a course that can lead to a peaceful settlement—the brickbats come just the same.

Paying the Suez Costs

Then there's the matter of paying for the Suez mess. The United States is expected abroad to put up the cash to get the oil so that the automobile users of Western Europe can enjoy normal conditions once more. American taxpayers are generous but will not be browbeaten by French or British spokesmen in the press or in the Parliaments. Congress holds the purse strings and is sensitive about foreign criticism.

The demands for America to side with Britain and France and forget everything else that has happened will only add to the complications. London and Paris should know that American hearts are close to the British and French people no matter what the issues or the criticisms. President Eisenhower tried to express just that thought in his brief statement from Augusta on Tuesday.

But when all is said and done, a realistic course has to be followed by the United States. A policy has to be shaped to fit the changing circumstances of a troubled world. It will not avail to have the United States play the part of a leader who tries to boss the show and tell other nations what to do. There can be only an appeal to reason—a setting forth calmly of the basic principles that must govern all free nations in their relations to each other and in their efforts to liberate the oppressed peoples in those lands where dictators still hold sway.

America is not on anybody's side except the side of justice. The questions that have inflamed the world in recent days are susceptible of solution if there's a return to considerations of moral law in the world.

Obviously the Soviets have been at the bottom of the Middle East trouble. They sent arms to Egypt for the purpose of alarming the Israelis. It was inevitable that a clash would occur when the Communists started to fish in waters already troubled by years of strife. The Soviets now are brazenly adding to the tensions in the Middle East by sending arms to Syria.

But can one government be allowed to threaten the peace of the world and incite other nations to make war on each other? How can small nations be assured of their political independence and the protection of their territorial integrity? It is important for American spokesmen not to lose sight of these basic issues even as the desire is expressed that the British and French withdraw their forces from the Suez. Nor can the United States fail to insist promtply that the canal dispute be left to some arbitration tribunal. The issues there are plainly legalistic.

Good Faith Also Issue

"Sovereignty" is an understandable term, but so also is "good faith" in keeping the solemn pledges written into a treaty. Specific concessions granted by treaty to a canal company cannot be arbitrarily abrogated with the cry of "nationalization."

The whole world situation is interrelated. Either the United Nations will become effective in liberating the peoples of the so-called satellite countries by calling for the voluntary withdrawal of all Soviet troops, thus paving the way for the abandonment of all military alliances on both sides—which would mean leaving the matter of enforcing the peace to the world organization—or else there will have to be more alliances and eventually another world war.

Here is a God-given opportunity now for American statesmen to persuade all peoples that the time has come to assert their will so that tyrants and war-mongering dictators will be driven from power. It's a great chance to mobilize public opinion in Asia, Europe and Latin America behind moral law. If that should fail, military force will regrettably become the only answer.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Palm Beach, Nov. 28—Starting back in the early nineties, the Bakers, father and son, were sheriffs, successively, of Palm Beach county, which in that decade and the first two decades of this century consisted of palm beach and very little else. They were very firm, tough characters, afraid of neither man nor beast and their sovereignty often extended down into Miami when it was just a trading post on the water beyond the terminus of the Florida East Coast Railways. When the story comes to be written they will be men of major importance in the modern history of Florida, starting about the time Henry Flagler pioneered the tourist phase of the society and economy of this phenomenal state. They were the very law itself in Palm Beach during the reign of Edward Riley Bradley, the gambler and racing man who landed in Chicago from somewhere in Pennsylvania not long after the fire and started a clothing store for men with a gambling joint upstairs.

Bradley never would discuss his career as a gambler until the last years of his life when he was jammed up in a Congressional inquiry and for the first time publicly admitted that he was a gambler, as everyone had known for years and years. He wore a gates-ajar collar and affected a pious mien which was a ridiculous guise when you came to think of it because it was the typical appearance of professionals, some of whom were called parson.

The only gamblers who wore string ties, wide hats and checker-board suits were the steamboat men of the Mark Twain period. Bradley's plant on Palm Beach was as prim as a church, a chaste white wooden house with the aspect of the squire's home in a typical Vermont village. His payroll included a staff of the toughest eyes in the country who patrolled the grounds and parking lot and stood guard at the entrance and drifted hither and yon among the stylish crowds around the tables and in the restaurant. There was a house rule absolutely excluding from the games all persons who lived in Florida, but it was bent out of shape in the later years as more and more of the eastern trade established their homes here to ease their taxes and enjoy the climate.

There was a treaty between Bradley and the Bakers to this effect because they wanted to avoid trouble with local religious people. Even so, the Protestants generally deplored Bradley's activities, but the Bakers kept the preachers in hand and they were so cautious to avoid scandal that one night they let Gerald Chapman slip away without putting a finger on him although he was worth $100,000 dead or alive. Chapman and his partner, named Dutch Anderson, were hot as a pistol and Chapman took a crazy, reckless chance when he brazened up to the door with a beautiful woman and waltzed right in where several of Bradley's eyes "made" him on sight. They tipped off Barry Shannon, who was Bradley's manager, and Barry passed the word to the sentinels who always sat upstairs behind a demure decorative lattice with rifles and other weapons trained on the gambling rooms. He also phoned young Bob Baker in West Palm Beach. The other customers had no inkling of the situation, which presently dissolved as quietly as it had arisen when Chapman and his girl strolled out and drove away.

There were only three egresses open to Chapman and Anderson—the railroad, the highway and the sea. Shannon told me Baker decided that the publicity would be very unpleasant even if he killed Chapman and Anderson. He wanted no truck with them whatever and I do not recall that he ever told Shannon or Bradley just how he managed to ease them on their way.

Anderson was killed in a gunfight with a policeman in Michigan and Chapman was hanged in Wethersfield, Conn. prison for murdering a policeman in a cheap burglary in Waterbury. He had the dubious honor of serving as guinea-pig in a new venture in capital punishment whereby the guest of honor stood on a spot with the noose around his neck and, instead of dropping through a trap-door, was yanked upward as a counterweight, like that on a pile-driver, dropped in a track. Gene Fowler wrote that this device flipped Chappie six feet in the air and whipped him around like a trout. They buried Chappie in the conventional ignominy and his wretched sister beat her frail hands against the arrogance of the state for years and years in a mournful campaign to recover his body and bury him with other members of the family.

During Bradley's monopoly the only other place which the bakers tolerated was a spot of the type known to the trade as a sawdust joint. Baker yielded to pressure from the social aristocracy to provide facilities for their cooks, drivers and so forth who craved action on their nights off. There was no tolerated gambling in West Palm Beach, but there was intermittent play in dumps back in the camps of the migrants and crackers in the crop country. The bakers also allowed a few slot machines, but, whatever their arrangements with Bradley and other operators, they seem to have accumulated little if any money.

The gambling house has vanished absolutely. Most of the old clients are dead and gone and Palm Beach is a very dull place, which seems to suit its present clientele perfectly. It is not at all "exclusive" now, but the hotels are luxurious and genteel and there are many more mansions than there were during the social reign of Mrs. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, whose silly old husband used to beat a drum on his birthday to the accompaniment of fictional stories about the battle of Shiloh. I have made no effort to stir up action, but I doubt that you could find anybody to lag pennies or pitch horseshoes for nickels with you now.

Hens or Roosters

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—What'll you have, hens or roosters? By a new egg dipping process, a poultry research expert says, science can control the sex of a chick before it is born. George Blackburn of a Vineland, N. J., poultry research firm, says details of the process are still secret. But poultrymen at Michigan State University believe it involves forcing hormones under pressure through the porous eggshell.

Criminal Cases In County Court, Selecting Jury

Several criminal matters were disposed of before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn and Greene County Judge Paul Fromer Wednesday in County Court.

Joseph R. Ruzzo of Kingston, charged with a violation of the gambling laws under two counts, entered a plea of guilty to the first count, violation of Section 970 which deals with operating a game and sentence will be pronounced on Friday at 2 p. m. The second count alleged operation of a gambling establishment on February 1, 1956 at 670 Broadway. Frank Campochiaro appeared for defendant.

Francisco Zayas and Antonio R. Martinez, Bronx, were given nine months in the County Jail and allowed credit for time served when they entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Roger H. Loughran appeared for defendants.

Youthful Offender Move

Louis Nieves, who was also charged with unlawful entry and burglary along with Zayas and Martinez, was found to have been under 16 at the time of the alleged crime and his case was moved to the Youthful Offender calendar to be disposed of at chambers.

George Wesley Slover, Maple Hill, entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. Norman Kellar appeared for defendant and a plea of guilty was entered. Judge Bruhn said Slover's trouble appeared to stem from too much drinking and he cautioned him against continuing. A term of from 1½ to 3 years was imposed at Clinton State Prison but execution was suspended and Slover was placed on probation. A second indictment, charging grand larceny, second degree, was dismissed.

Escape Charge Dismissed

A charge of escape against Gordon White was dismissed. The act took place in August 1951 and Charles Saccoman, who appeared for White said as a result of the escape, White had not been eligible for parole and had served his full time. He said the defendant had paid the penalty and asked that the escape charge be dismissed. White, he said, had spent some eight years in jail. Judge Fromer, who heard the plea, granted the motion to dismiss and exonerated bail.

John Kubik and William Bullis of Middletown entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry and were given a nine months suspended jail sentence by Judge Fromer. Bail was exonerated and a burglary, third degree charge was dismissed. The two defendants were involved in a series of entrances to properties in Orange county and have been punished there for the acts. Some of the places entered were in southern Ulster but were involved in the same spree. John Gotelli appeared for the two defendants.

Elijah Garvin, charged with burglary and unlawful entry had his case put over to February on motion of Aaron Klein, who said he had just been assigned and did not have time to prepare for trial.

Frank X. Jones, charged with violation of the ABC law, was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty on a motion of Charles Gaffney, counsel. The case was put over to February when it will be disposed of before Judge Fromer, Judge Bruhn being inelligible to hear the matter.

Jury Selection

Selection of a jury was commenced in the case of The People vs. Donald De Groat and Donald Brooks, charged with receiving stolen property. Brooks is represented by Joseph Avis and DeGroat by John Gotelli. The charge grows out of an act alleged to have been committed on March 4, 1955, and involved an electric saw valued at $125. A motion was made before Judge Bruhn for a severance of the joint charge and individual trials but the motion was denied. Avis also moved for trial before the court in the Brooks case and that was also denied and the case went to trial with both defendants case being heard by the jury. One prospective juror was examined before the afternoon recess.

Case Put Over Until Tomorrow

Floyd Kaler, George W. Shutts and John M. Fizette, who were returned from Greenhaven Prison on Wednesday to answer to a sealed indictment charging escape from Wallkill prison last August, entered pleas of innocent when arraigned in County Court today. Bernard Feeney was assigned by Judge Louis G. Bruhn and the case was moved over until Friday at 10 a. m.

Willie Charles Wright, also known as Buddy Wright, Marlborough, charged with illegal possession of a firearm, entered a plea of guilty to violation of Section 1897, Sub. 4, a misdemeanor charging possession without a license, and a year in jail was imposed. Execution of sentence was suspended. Wright has been employed steadily in southern Ulster for many years and had never been in difficulty before. Bernard Feeney appeared for Wright.

Refusal Allowed

Detroit (AP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission ruled that a fired person can refuse a job paying less than $1 an hour—the federal minimum—and still receive state unemployment benefits.

State Tax Fund Up $44 Million Over '55 Figure

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Gov. Harriman reported today that state tax collections for the current fiscal year were running $44,100,000 ahead of the previous year's pace.

Although the governor said the influx exceeded his budget estimates, an administration spokesman said it was "too early" in the fiscal year to speculate on any tax-collection surplus.

A fiscal expert on the staff of the Legislature's Republican majorities predicted last month there would be a "certain" tax surplus of 25 million dollars when the fiscal year ends March 31.

Harriman made public a report from Tax Commissioner George M. Bragalini, who said tax collections for the first seven months of the year totaled $822,782,091, compared with $778,695,173 at the same stage a year ago.

The governor's budget message last winter anticipated general fund revenues of $1,349,500,000, compared with $1,309,000,000 collected the previous year.

Bragalini said last month's collections were up $2,100,000 over those of October, 1955.

Harriman said the trend was anticipated in his budget message.

"But," he continued, "I am gratified that collections continue to exceed the original budget estimates."

The governor attributed "the improved revenue situation" to what he said was "a fine job" by Bragalini's tax department in administering the tax laws and creacking down on tax evaders.

Bragalini said the bulk of the increase over last year came in collections from the personal income and corporation franchise taxes.

Fir the first seven months of this fiscal year, income tax collections totalled $312,765,727, an increase of $23,500,000 over that for the comparable period the previous year.

Corporation franchise tax collections rose $14,200,000 to a total of $117,523,573.

No Major Changes

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Few if any major changes in the soil bank program will be recommended to Congress next year even though there has been occasional evidence of abuses of its intent, an Agriculture Department spokesman said today. The program, entailing federal subsidies to farmers to cut down planted acreage in order to trim down huge government-owned surpluses, went into operation on an emergency basis this year.

Actress 'Doing Fine'

Hollywood, Nov. 29 (AP)—Actress Susan Hayward was reported "doing fine" today after being operated on for an undisclosed ailment. Officials at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital said the actress entered the hospital yesterday and underwent "minor surgery" later in the day.

WISE POTATO CHIPS

Thousands Pay Last Respects to Musician

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Tommy Dorsey, famed "sentimental gentleman of swing" for more than a quarter of a century, will be laid to rest today.

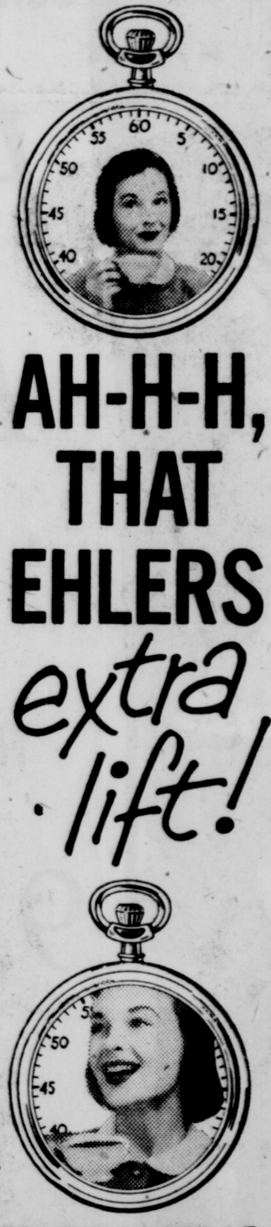

Several thousand persons paid their respects to the bandleader throughout yesterday, last night and the early morning hours today.

A funeral chapel remained open all night so that theatrical people and musicians, working during the evening, might visit. Among them were members of the Dorsey brothers band—led by Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey.

Among those filing past the bier were Lt. (j.g.) Thomas Dorsey III, stationed with the navy in Hawaii, and Mrs. Lester Hooker of Richmond, Va.—son and daughter of Dorsey by his first marriage.

Following funeral services at 11 a. m. (EST) today, burial will be in Kensico Cemetery, Valhalla, in Westchester county.

Honorary pallbearers include bandleaders Guy Lombardo and Paul Whiteman; TV comedian Jackie Gleason, and Singer Dick Haymes.

Peace Justice Admits Defrauding Clients

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 29—Authorities say an Eastchester, N. Y., justice of the peace has admitted defrauding 30 law clients of $183,000 in the past seven years.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi said Matthew J. Siano, 51, walked into his office last night and related stories of larcenies and embezzlements to obtain money for betting on the horses.

Siano was freed in bail last week on a charge of stealing $10,000 from a contractor in a real estate deal. After Siano's purported confession, his bail was revoked. He was remanded to the county jail. Also an attorney, he lives in Tuckahoe, N. Y.

The grand jury is slated to begin hearings tomorrow on the $10,000 incident, involving a complaint by contractor Dominic A. Bracalello. Bracalello claims Siano took the cash for a real estate investment which never was made.

Woerner Case Is Adjourned Again

A second adjournment for William Woerner, 62, of 40 Murray street, charged with operating a still at that address, was reported today.

Woerner, who was arrested Oct. 24, after a raid by federal men and local police, was due for hearing yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Isaac Platt in Poughkeepsie, but the case was put over to Jan. 24.

Agents from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Alcohol Tax Unit, Newburgh, reported confiscating 22 gallons of "white moonshine" allegedly the product of a 25-gallon still, and 200 gallons of mash.

The first adjournment of the case was announced Oct. 31. Woerner, who is represented by Attorney Charles J. Saccoman, of this city, is under $1,000 bail.

Seizure Law Beaten

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 29 (AP)—The utility seizure law proposed by five-term Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to end a 45-day telephone blackout in the Portsmouth, Ohio, area went into the junkheap yesterday. The Ohio House of Representatives, in special session, ignored the pleas of Ohio's junior senator-elect and sent his proposal crashing to unanimous defeat, 110-0. The special session adjourned immediately.

"Seems pretty quiet! Didn't they say something about having a jam session?"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Little is known by us about our sister cities such as Newburgh down the river. From time to time I run across some history on our nearby cities such as Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh. The following material is from "The Hudson" by Wallace Bruce written in 1907. I take it this book was written for the Dayline passengers who wished to buy a book on their trip, for he writes: "Approaching the city of Newburgh, we see a building of rough stone one story high, with steep roof, known as Washington's Headquarters. For several years prior to and during the Revolution, this was the home of Jonathan Hasbrouck, known far and wide for business integrity and loyalty to liberty. This house was built by Mr. Hasbrouck, the northeast corner, the oldest part about 1750; and southeast corner about 1760 and the remaining half in 1770. It fronted west on the King's Highway, now known as Liberty street, with a garden and family burial plot to the east, lying between the house and the river."

Mr. Bruce further writes: In 1849 this building was purchased by the state, and was restored as nearly as possible to its original character, and is now the treasure-house of many memories, and of valuable historic relics. A descriptive catalogue, prepared for the trustees, under the act of May 11, 1874, by a careful historian, Dr. E. M. Ruttenber, was of service to those interested in furthering their knowledge of local history. Following is taken in part from Dr. Ruttenberg's booklet: Size of the building is 56 feet front by 46 feet in depth, and located on what was originally Lot No. 2 of the German Patent, with title vested in Heman Schonemann, a native of the Palatinate of Germany, who sold it in 1721, to James Alexander, who sold it to Alexander Colden and Burger Meynders, by whom it was conveyed to Jonathan Hasbrouck, the grandson of Abraham Hasbrouck, one of the Huguenot founders of New Paltz. (Yet, author says above, Jonathan Hasbrouck built the house, no doubt other historians can explain that.)

The author says Johanthan Hasbrouck was a man of marked character; of fine physique, being 6 feet and 4 inches tall; was colonel of the militia of the district, and in frequent service in guarding the passes of the Highlands. His occupation was that of a farmer, a miller, and a merchant. He died in 1780. The first town meeting for the Precinct of Newburgh was held here on the first Tuesday in April, when its owner was elected supervisor. Public meetings continued to be held here for several years. During the early part of the Revolution, the committee of safety of the precinct, assembled here; here military companies were organized, and here the regiment which Col. Hasbrouck commanded assembled, to move hence to the defense of the Highland forts."

In the spring of 1782 Washington made this building his headquarters, and remained here until August 19, 1783, on the morning of which day he took his departure from Newburgh. It was said in 1907 "The building is now substantially in the condition it was during Washington's occupation of it. The same massive timbers span the ceiling; the old fire-place with its wide-open chimney is ready for the huge back-logs of yore; the 7 doors are in their places; the rays of morning sun still stream through the one window. This was Washington's and his wife's private residence in Newburgh."

Tricky Play Evens Breaks

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It isn't easy to make five clubs in today's hand even if you see all of the cards. Dr. Paul Zweifel of Schenectady managed to make this contract without seeing the cards during the recent regional tournament in Syracuse.

West opened the king of spades, and Dr. Zweifel ruffed. He led to the ace of diamonds, returned to his hand with a trump, cashed the king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy. He continued by ruffing a spade in his hand and another diamond with dummy's last trump. When declarer led a third round of spades from the dummy, East had to discard a heart since it could do him no good to ruff. Dr. Zweifel ruffed with his last small trump, cashed his remaining high trump, and led an established diamond.

East could take his two good trump tricks, but then he had to lead hearts to the dummy, thus giving dummy the tenth and eleventh tricks.

Weekly Food Review

By the Associated Press

Boneless chuck pot roast, a long-time favorite of the keen-eyed, bargain-hunting housewife, will be at the front of the counter in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Beef Going Down

Chuck roast and other cuts of beef are expected to be in good supply for the next few weeks, and this week it's chuck that appears most popular as a featured item. Next week beef prices should be down 2 to 3 cents a pound, and other cuts may get the extra low price tag treatment.

Pork loin and roast, smoked picnic hams and varieties of lamb also will be featured by some stores. Lamb items include legs of lamb, chops, roast and a special, combination package advertised by an eastern chain with shoulder lamb chops and stew meat combined. The package, designed to provide two meals, sells for 33 cents a pound, whereas the chops themselves would be 79 cents a pound.

Other Good Buys

With hog slaughtering at its seasonal peak, pork and pork products are expected to be plentiful and Department of Agriculture sources point out that market supplies of young chickens are running about 15 per cent ahead of a year ago. So fryers and broilers should be good bargains, too.

Although this is the time of year when vegetable gardens are frozen in many sections of the country, the price-supply situation is good in most areas.

Crops Are Up

The fall cabbage crop, for example is 50 per cent greater than last year's, and fresh markets also will offer 13 per cent more potatoes, 12 per cent more carrots and 15 per cent more spinach than a year ago.

In addition, frozen vegetable stocks on Nov. 1 were reported a healthy 31 per cent above the year before. And an unusually large pack of canned corn will be grounding the store shelves, along with other processed vegetables like tomatoes, tomato juice and sauerkraut.

This week cabbage, potatoes, onions and radishes are on the list of outstanding buys. Onions are reported a shade higher in some areas, but still a bargain.

Cauliflower on Top

Cauliflower also is considered close to the outstanding buy rating. Other good buys are said to be beans, carrots and beets. Lettuce and celery both are reported somewhat cheaper this week, and market men say tomatoes should be coming in from southern fields in good supply in a few weeks.

Oranges and grapefruit are the best bets at the fruit counter, although tangerines are getting cheaper all the time and should be plentiful by the middle of next month, just in time for Christmas table bowl decorations.

Willys Expects Big Jeep Business in '57

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Willys Motors, Inc., which will produce some 65,000 jeep-type vehicles this year and have a profit on the operation, expects to do as well or better in 1957.

Company officials, headed by Edgar F. Kaiser, president, and S. A. Girard, vice president and general manager, were in New York today for a closed-circuit television presentation of an addition to its line of four-wheel drive commercial units.

The presentation brought the new vehicle to Willys dealers in 20 cities throughout the country. Details of the newest model are being withheld until dealer introduction early in December.

The vehicle, called the "forward control Jeep FC-150," will get its initial public showing at the National Automobile Show that opens in New York's Coliseum on Dec. 8. The FC-150 has substantially more cargo space than present models, although it has the same wheelbase and tread.

Criminal Cases Moved Over Term

In the closing week of the November trial term of County Court District Attorney Howard C. St. John on Tuesday afternoon moved over the term several criminal cases.

Among those over the term is the Henri Rethier assault case, arising out of an affair involving a sign along the Saugerties road. This went over to February for trial. Also moved over to the February term was the Raymond Ackerman case, violation of Section 1292-a. This went over on motion of defendant and St. John said this would be the last adjournment granted in that case. A second charge of issuing fraudulent checks against Ackerman also went over to January. Charles Saccoman appears for defendant.

An abandonment charge against Daniel N. Malone was also moved over the term. A charge of violation of Section 65 of the ABC law brought against Otto Schu, also was moved over the term. A grand larceny charge against Leonard A. Harrison, went over the term.

County Judge Paul Fromer of Greene county will preside at a session of court to dispose of cases in which Judge Bruhn is disqualified because of prior connections with the cases, either as private attorney or while serving as district attorney. These cases are:

Harold Dore, violation of Section 483-b. Gordon White charged with escape. John Kubik and William Bullis, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry charges. Thomas Yoemans, Paul C. Decker and D. G. Smith, charged with burglary, third degree.

For an 'Expandable' Feast Choose Fully Cooked Ham

JUICY HAM is an excellent candidate for Christmas honors since it will solve the problem of several meals.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A fully cooked ham is perfect for holiday feasting. It makes an "expendable" feast, according to Beth Bailey McLean, director Swift and Company's home economics laboratories and author of "The Complete Meat Cook Book."

"The 'encore meals' should be planned for at the time of purchase," she says. "Allow one-third pound per serving of the fully cooked, bone-in variety."

As with all cured pork, whether cooked or uncooked, the whole, fully cooked ham should be kept refrigerated, she adds. It should be used within seven days of purchase.

When the ham makes its first grand appearance at the Christmas feast, garnish it festively. For example, use shapely balls of fluffy white rice with a yuletide touch. Top with bright red cranberry and a sprig of parsley. Keep hot in the oven during the last minute meal preparations.

For further red and green Christmas color, dress a green vegetable with a piquant sauce combined with midget pieces of celery and pimiento.

Hot Piquant Sauce for Vegetables

One-quarter cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon chili powder, ½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, ½ cup finely cut celery, 2 tablespoons finely cut pimiento.

Heat together lemon juice, seasonings, and butter. Stir to blend. Keep hot. Just before pouring over hot cooked vegetables, stir in celery and pimiento.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cold sliced ham, creamed mustard, casserole of sweet potatoes, buttered spinach, seeded rolls, cole slaw, cherry pie, coffee, tea, milk.

3 State Youths Win 4-H Awards

Chicago, Nov. 28 (AP)—Robert C. Herner, 17, of Rochester won a $300 scholarship Tuesday in national 4-H Club competition here.

Herner's award was for his gardening ability.

He was the third New York state entry to win a $300 scholarship. Otis Young Jr., 19, of Cortland, and Claude J. Phillips, 20, of Amsterdam were among the award winners announced yesterday at the 35th annual 4-H Congress.

Is Project Leader

Herner, who has carried a 4-H Garden project for seven years, has exhibited at a number of county fairs. He has served as garden project leader of his club.

Young was one of the six top winners in the field crops program, which deals with soil management, quality production, harvesting, processing, storing and marketing of crops.

Phillips was one of 12 winners in the tractor division. Awards were based on skill in maintenance and operation of tractors and promoting knowledge of mechanized farm equipment.

Young is vice president of the New York State Junior Vegetable Growers Assn. He conducts his 4-H projects on his parents' 1,500-acre farm.

Phillips is president of the Montgomery county 4-H council. He lives on a 300-acre dairy farm.

Costlier Rib

Richmond, Va. (AP)—The price squeeze appears to be on the squeeze price according to hospital records. Last August it cost a 50-year-old Richmond woman $13 for repairs to a crecked rib she received when hugged too enthustically by her husband. And now the hospital reports a 48-year-old woman has been treated for the same trouble, caused the same way. But her bill was $18.

Named to Handle Refugee Program

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower today named Tracy S. Voorhees, former undersecretary of the army, to coordinate the Hungarian refugee program and study whether more than 5,000 should be admitted to this country.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Voorhees, now a New York attorney and a consultant to the Defense Department, is taking over the new assignment immediately and will serve without pay.

The President recently directed that up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet oppression in Hungary be admitted to the United States. The first groups have been arriving at a reception center at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and elsewhere since Nov. 21.

Hagerty said anew today it has been a possibility all along that the quota might be increased to more than 5,000. He said Voorhees will study that matter with Scott McLeod, administrator of the Refuge Relief Law.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here, Hagerty said Voorhees will serve as the President's personal representative "in connection with Hungarian refugee and relief activities in this country."

Husband Kills Wife, Milkman Shoots Himself

Little Valley, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—A young milkman, despondent over the slaying of a pretty housewife by her husband yesterday, shot himself to death in the parking lot of a funeral home last night. A wreath of red roses "for Sue" and a note were beside him in his car.

Police said Labert Marsh Jr., 24, a delivery man for a local dairy, shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle.

Marsh took his own life outside the funeral home where the body of Mrs. Sue Ann Riggs, 24, mother of three children, had been taken earlier in the day.

Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel identified Marsh as the man found in a closet of Mrs. Riggs' bedroom early yesterday by her husband, Ralph, 26, a draftsman at a firm in nearby Olean.

The sheriff said the note found in Marsh's car read: "I am sorry that I have to do this. Life without Sue is nothing."

A note with the wreath of two dozen roses said: "These roses are for Sue."

Riggs told police he shot his wife three times in the head with a .32 caliber pistol during a quarrel after he returned home from a dinner with fellow employes in Olean to find Mrs. Riggs with Marsh.

Blaik Denies He'll Quit Army

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP) Earl (Red) Blaik today vigorously denied published rumors that he would give up his coaching duties to handle only the athletic directorship at Army following Saturday's game with Navy.

"I haven't the slightest idea how a story like this gets started," said Blaik as he completed preparations for the big game. "I can tell you it is unfounded," he added.

Blaik currently handles both jobs as athletic director and football coach.

Use of Salk Vaccine Urged By Eisenhower

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower, informed that about 17 million doses of Salk polio vaccine are lying unused on producers' shelves, urges prompt use of the supply to "prevent paralysis or even death."

Marion Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, used that language in reporting to the president last night that abundant stocks of the once scarce serum are being passed up by the public.

In advising Eisenhower that vaccine supplies now are plentiful and that "the means are largely at hand" to prevent the dread disease, Folsom added that a new problem has arisen.

"The danger," the cabinet officer said, "is simply that because of public apathy, vaccine which would prevent paralysis or even death—next year—may lie unused.

"The Public Health Service reports that about 17 million doses of vaccine are now lying unused in the hands of manufacturers. Additional vaccine is stockpiled in drug stores and physicians' offices."

ILA Loses Move

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) has lost a move for dismissal of a Federal Court temporary restraint limiting the area of the union's bargaining with employers. The denial was made yesterday by Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan, who issued the temporary restraining order last week on the basis of a complaint by the National Labor Relations Board. The judge said in denying the ILA's dismissal motion: "I have listened to arguments here and have read the papers submitted carefully. Assuming that the allegations in the NLRB petition are true, I do not feel it can be said as a matter of law that the petition is insufficient on its face, and the motion to dismiss is denied."

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—A man and his wife were found shot to death today in the upstairs bedroom of their home after their seven-year-old son told his teacher that "Daddy has shot Mommy." Police said they believed Howard T. Remonda, 31, shot his wife, Eunice May, 25, with a .30-.30 caliber rifle and then turned the gun on himself. The weapon was found beside Remonda's body.

California Hard Hit by Forest And Brush Fires

Los Angeles, Nov. 29 (AP) — This year, as every year, great black, ugly scars are spreading farther and farther over the foothills and mountains of southern California.

The area of valuable watershed blackened by fire during this disastrous season now totals more than 70,000 acres and the holocaust proceeds. Every acre of watershed that is burned off adds to the flood danger when the rains come later in the winter.

Professional firefighters agree that California is probably the worst place in the nation for explosive brush and forest blazes. Sometimes sun-baked brush is so lacking in moisture there isn't anything to crackle—and the blaze races with a terrible swiftness and silence against the unwarned firefighter.

Last Saturday 11 trapped men died fighting a vast blaze in San Diego county's Cleveland National Forest that is still burning. The men were surprised by a wind shift, forced back against a cliff and boxed in.

"There was no confusion," said a survivor, Lionel Wood. "We didn't know the fire was coming because it didn't make any noise."

Sudden wind shifts, or heat-produced turbulence called "fire storms," can be as bad. This was the cause of California's most deadly fire in October 1933. Twenty-eight firefighters were trapped and killed in a canyon in Los Angeles' Griffith Park, a large wooded area.

Fifteen men died July 12, 1953, in a Mendocino National forest fire in northern California when a smoldering section of brush suddenly flared up.

Hearing Recesses To December on C-H Assessments

A certiorari proceeding brought by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., for review of assessments, tentatively recessed to December 13 and 14 after introduction of maps and exhibits, and examination of an engineer Wednesday.

The corporation asks for review of assessments on the Sturgeon Pool dam and the Dansville Falls installation. The proceeding is held before Referee Pierce H. Russell in the town hall, Port Ewen.

Sturgeon Pool dam has been assessed equally between the town of Rosendale and Esopus. The corporation objects to its assessment in Esopus, and contends that only 37.4 per cent of the dam is in Esopus, and it seeks a reduction in assessed valuation on the Esopus tax roll.

Engineer Leslie W. Bowman, called by respondents as an expert, was cross-examined.

Robert V. Stapleton appears for the assessors of the town of Esopus, and Gould and Wilkie for the petitioners.

Referee Russell was appointed by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth to hear the proceeding. Several hearings have been held.

UN Chief May Let Assembly Act In Hungary Case

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold will open the way for General Assembly action on Hungary's refusal to let in UN observers unless he gets definite word today from Budapest, informed sources said.

The informants said the Secretary General had decided to set the immediate deadline on reporting success or failure to the Assembly after more than two weeks of evasive answers from representatives of Hungary's Russian-Puppet government.

No Budapest Word

A UN spokesman said Hammarskjold spoke to Hungary's foreign minister Impe Horvath again last night and got the usual reply that word had not come down from Budapest.

Subsequently Moscow radio said Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar told a correspondent of the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda he was standing fast on his decision to bar both UN oversevers and Hammarskjold from Hungary.

A decision by Hammarskjold to place the matter before the Assembly at this stage could unleash a growing campaign among delegates to expel the Hungarians from the world body they joined less that a year ago.

Buy 24 Oil Stoves As Business Expands

Browns Went To All Auctions Around Village

Old Equipment Used Until New Canner Devised

There was a time years ago when country auctioneers up in Mexico, N. Y., could always count on a bid for one usually slow-moving item: a second-hand oil stove.

Certain as taxes, Grandma Brown would be on hand in the familiar antique 1928 Ford, ready to plunk down $2 or $3 hard cash and cart off the range to that second-floor room above the grocery store. Operations had moved upstairs when business first showed signs of flourishing.

Grandma Brown and her family actually started the bean business "powered" solely by the family's Perfection oil stove. Its output was only four pans of beans daily for sale in local stores and to friends.

Buy More Stoves

But as business picked up steadily, Grandma Brown found herself attending more and more auctions, bringing home more and more oil stoves.

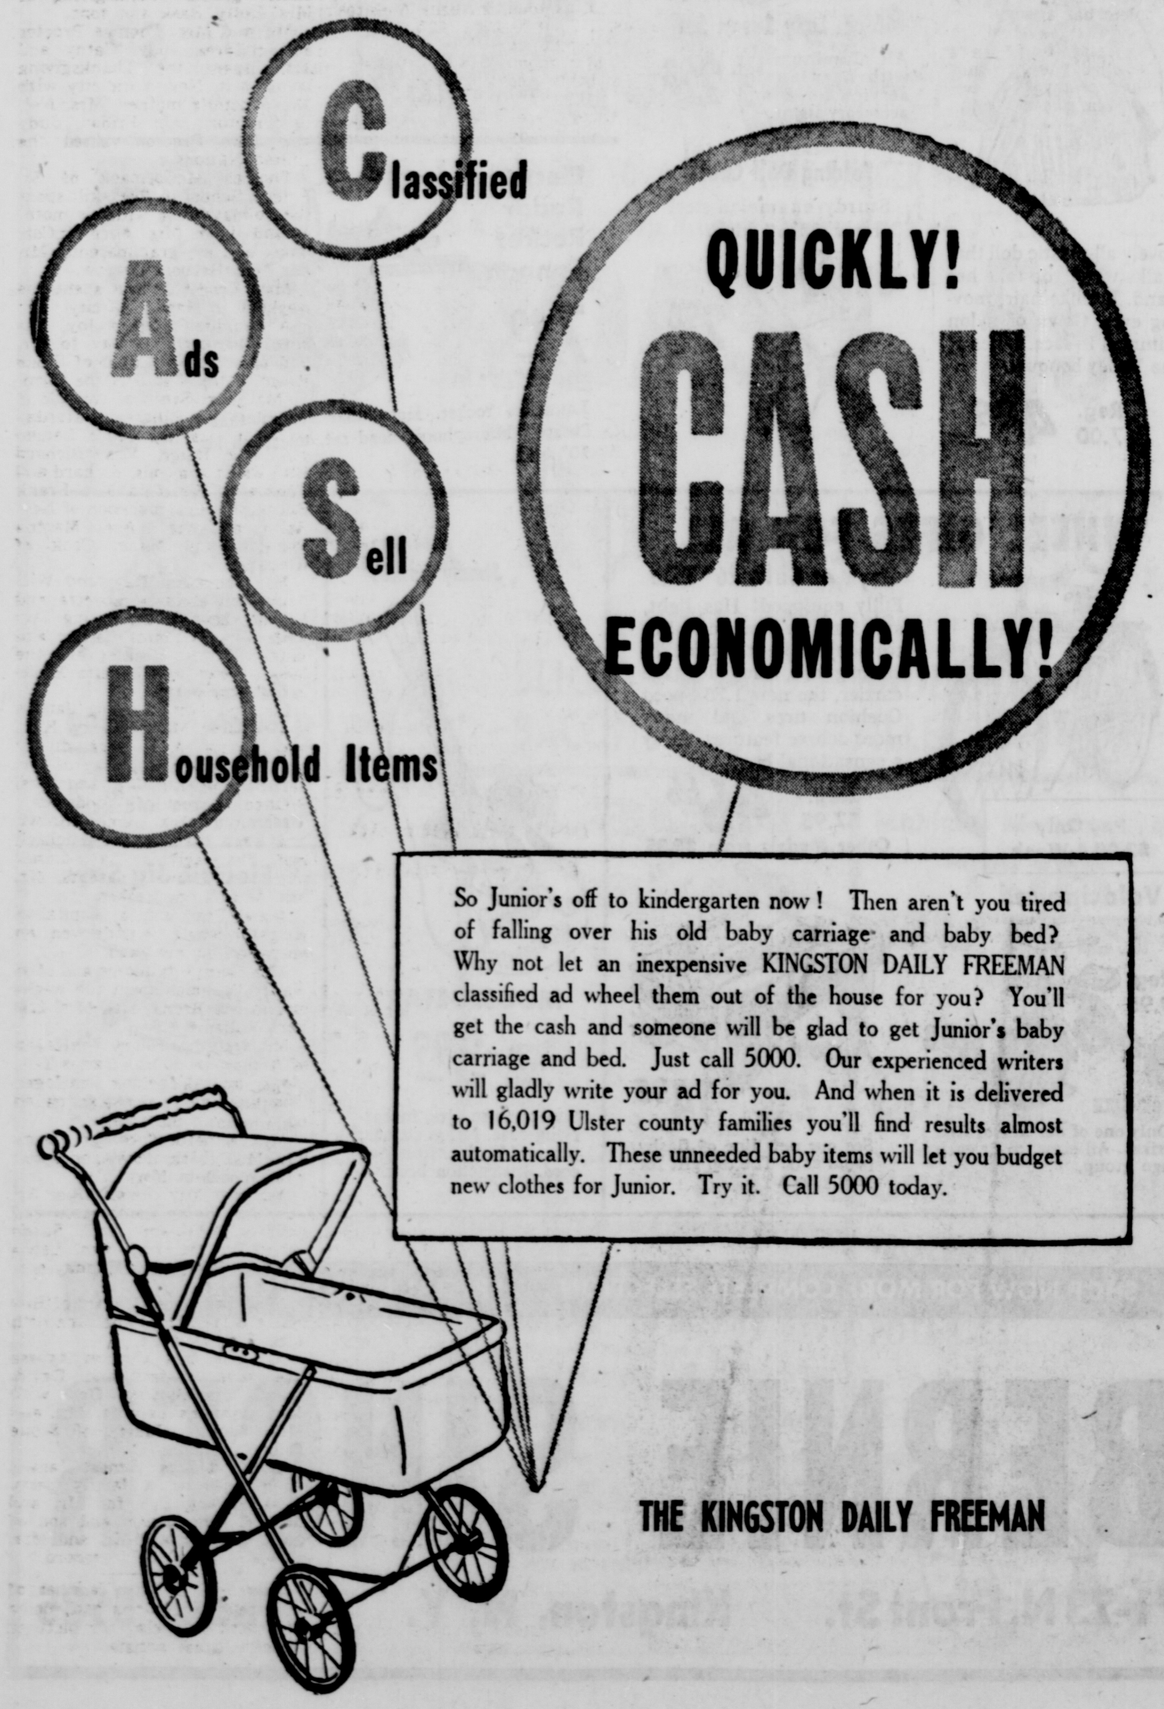

At one point in the early history of the business Grandma Brown had a battery of no fewer than 24—a round two dozen—Perfection oil stoves, the fruits of their expeditions to various and sundry auctions held around the North Country. These 24 stoves were burning 24 hours a day at this point to meet the demand for Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans.

New Equipment

With the end of World War II and the obvious prospect of increasing demand for the beans, Grandma Brown reversed the direction of traffic in oil stoves back to the bidding blocks of the auctioneers. Up in the second-floor room, new, specially designed canning equipment was installed.

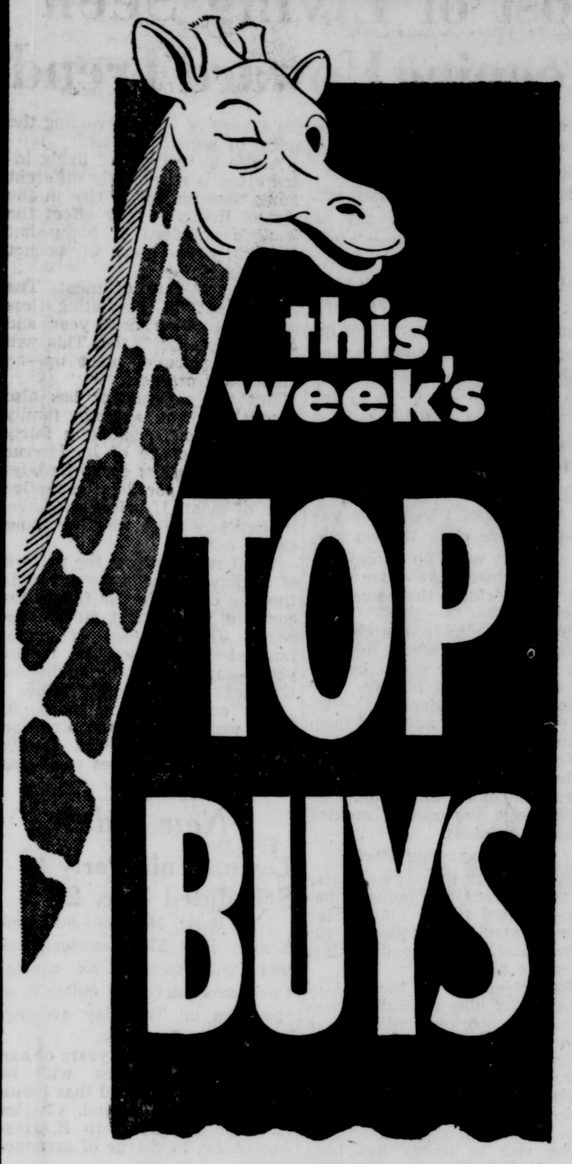

Now Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans go to market in the familiar brown and yellow can known to thousands of New York State families today. However, the same home-like methods of making the baked beans are used today as Grandma did in the beginning.

The era of the oil stove had passed into an early chapter in the fabulous history of Grandma Brown's family enterprise. From this point, the business of beans sprouted.

Contrary Custom

Baltimore (AP)—In a drug store on east Baltimore street here, customers face contrary orders. A literature stand is posted, "Come in and Browse." But there is also a sign in the store that reads, "If You Have Nothing To Do, Don't Do It Here."

Cost of Living Seen Keeping Upward Trend

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The cost of living is up again with predictions for more of the same.

Government figures also put the average take home pay of factory workers at a new high. This is all to the good.

But more than half of the nation's bread earners don't work in factories. For those whose incomes haven't increased in line with the government's consumer price index the slow rise in the cost of goods and services is scarcely a cheerful prospect.

When the government announced its cost of living index had set another record, the pay of somewhere close to two million workers went up automatically. Each year more labor wage contracts include this escalator device.

The latest rise in the cost of living index was credited in large part to the nudge given by the higher price tags on the new model cars. The rise in the index gave a million auto and farm equipment industry workers a two-cent an hour pay boost. Higher price tags on new cars sent the index up, and automatically boosted the cost of making cars and tractors.

Steel Plays Big Part

Much of the most recent rise in prices throughout industry has been credited to the hike in the price of steel that followed the wage boost at the end of last summer's strike.

The latest rise in the cost of living index also all but assures that steel workers will get a three cents an hour pay boost automatically the first of the year. And even before this latest prospect many steel mill owners were insisting that still higher steel prices are needed.

The rise in prices has been slow—it isn't a runaway affair. But it has been steady and is now centering on its built-in features.

There are some built-in protections against continuous price rises, too.

If the price of one metal, for example, rises too high, metal users look for substitutes. As demand for the high priced metal slides, either its price comes down or its rate of production is cut back.

Pay Figures In

The family budget keeper has his say also, in all but the bare necessities of life. And dropping sales volume of the nonnecessities either brings a lowering of prices or a cut in production. Cuts in production affect the take home pay of factory workers adversely—thus reversing the spiral of recent months.

A rise in the cost of living index often is an entirely different thing than an actual rise in the cost of living. It may affect the family's standard of living but not its actual out of pocket spending.

Take the case of meat. The government is predicting less pork production next year and perhaps less beef, too. This will send the price of meat up—an unpleasant prospect.

But the government has also found that the average family goes right on spending a fairly stable percentage of its income on meat. If prices go up its buys other things, or less expensive cuts of meat. If prices go down, it may buy more meat or more choice cuts.

What really affects the pattern of a family's meat purchases is the rise or fall in the family income, a government survey reports. The incomes of many families have risen in recent years—and so has the quality of the meat on the family table.

The cost of living index, in other words, shows the direction prices are going. The family pocketbook determines what you do about it.

Approximately seven prospective members will also attend. The society is composed of men who trace their family background to the period when New York state was under Dutch rule, which ended in 1675.

A portion of New Jersey, Long Island and Delaware was under Dutch occupancy so qualified residents in those areas are eligible also. Laurance Bogert is president of the Ulster county branch.

Hasbrouck Is Guest Of Upstate Society

Fires Caused Most Accidents

In a 15-year period from 1941, fires caused the most accidents in the U. S. with 5,241 fatalities. Floods and other weather disasters were second most fatal, and automobile accidents took third place.

Use of water for all purposes in the United States is expected to double in the next 25 years.

Seals Sale Gives Chance for All To Aid TB Fight

The Christmas Seal sale permits "new and necessary attacks against an old and terrible enemy," according to Dr. Robert L. Yeager, chairman of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association. He said this in commenting on the present status of attempts to conquer tuberculosis.

Dr. Yeager's observation are reported by Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, president of the Ulster County TB & Health Association, an affiliate of the state committee.

That the people of Ulster county are again demonstrating their interest and participation in this fight is shown by the very good response to the 1956 Christmas Seal sale, Robert S. Russell, general chairman reports.

Two Challenges

"In the light of the fine progress in reducing deaths from this disease," Dr. Yeager said, "there are two facts that stand forth as challenges to further community effort.

"First, no drug has yet been found that kills the tuberculosis germs. Tuberculosis smolders in its victims for years, which calls for prolonged treatment. While fewer patients will need hospital care in the future, the number of patients under home treatment will increase.

"Secondly, tuberculosis is infectious, which calls for early detection and protective measures to prevent its spread throughout the community.

Funds Are Needed

"Therefore your health association needs funds to help develop home care and rehabilitation services and to keep people informed on how to protect themselves and their families from contracting the disease. As your association takes these measures in the coming year, it will also observe the fiftieth anniversary of the crusade against tuberculosis in New York state.

"Until the attack on tuberculosis has successfully met the changes now occuring, tuberculosis will continue to be a threat to our health and our economy. That is why your health association asks you to buy Christmas Seals, as your invesment in community and personal health."

Dr. Yeager is superintendent and medical director of the Rockland County Tuberculosis Hospital in Pomona.

Poverty Claims By LaMarca Hit In Kidnap Trial

Mineola, Nov. 29 (AP) — The state today ripped away at Angelo LaMarca's claims that poverty and debt drove him to the kidnap-slaying of Peter Weinberger last July 4.

The 31-year-old LaMarca had testified that creditors had hounded him with telephone calls to the very eve of the kidnaping. The defense claims this pressure produced a condition of temporary insanity in LaMarca.

"As a matter of fact, Mr. LaMarca, you didn't even have a telephone in your house until July 7?" Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta demanded.

Will Produce Records

Before LaMarca could reply Gulotta asked the court for a brief recess to produce telephone company records.

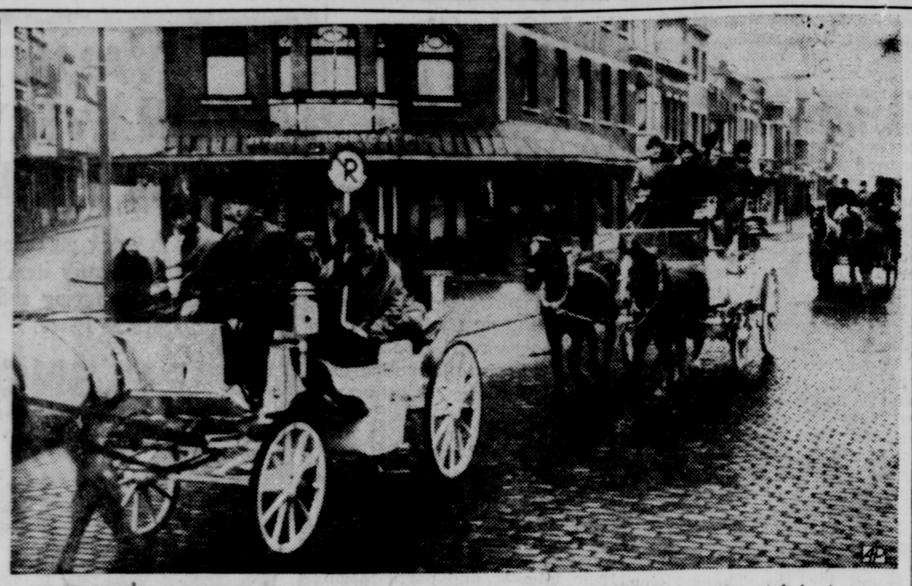

LaMarca has admitted that he took the 32-day-old Weinberger baby from its Westbury home the afternoon of Independence Day and almost immediately abandoned it not far away in a Long Island honeysuckle thicket, where the child died of suffocation.

The baby's body was not found until Aug. 24, the day after LaMarca's arrest by the FBI.

LaMarca is on trial for his life before an all-male Nassau county court jury on charges of murder and kidnaping. He is pleading insanity.

Gulotta produced records to show that LaMarca admitted to probation authorities that his personal income immediately before the kidnaping ran around $220 a month. In addition to that his wife was working on occasions.

Three rats will eat, contaminate or destroy enough food to grow four broilers every 12 weeks.

6th Ward Hears

is also a part of the city's contribution, Mr. Yerry told the association.

Before any demolition was begun a relocation center would be set up for the relocation of persons residing in the area to be rebuilt. They would be moved to private rental homes or apartments or the government would guarantee 100 per cent mortgages on houses up to $10,000 in value located in better sections of the city, with a down payment of only $200.

Homes Assured

If there should be vacancies in public housing facilities people being relocated could remain there for one year irrespective of incomes, Mr. Yerry stated. No one would be moved out unless he had somewhere to go.

He pointed out that the federal government contributes up to $100 per family for moving costs in a relocation program. It contributes up to $2,000 to move a business.

In addition, Mr. Yerry said, housing on the fringe areas of a rebuilt section may obtain liberal rates of FHA and long-term financing for the rehabilitation of their homes. The net result would be to restore 100 per cent taxable properties to the tax rolls, he pointed out.

"In cities where this has been done the cost to the city has been repaid within three years time by increased income from taxable properties."

In answer to a question, "How long will it take to complete such a program?" Mr. Yerry replied, "As long as it takes the Common Council to act on various matters connected with such a program."

The question and answer session lasted for approximately an hour. Assisting Mr. Yerry at the meeting was Alexander Yosman, manager of the Kingston Housing Authority.

Premier Stand

are tending to lead the governments. Our response to such attempts is to try to calm the streets."

"Appeals to the streets" is a familiar term in this part of the world, meaning a call to riot by the discontented, poverty-stricken masses.

Ibrahim spiked one specific rumor broadcast by Syria—that Gen. Tarak Said, commander of the Habbaniya air base, had been arrested. The general had an audience yesterday with King Faisal, Ibrahim said, and thanked the ruler for his military decorations.

The government also denied Damascus reports that army officers were being court-martialed for protesting British use of the Habbaniya base.

"Iraq has not been a base and will not be a base of help for any aggressive power," the government said.

Britain Ignores

tioning Prime Minister Eden, said this motion—and others regarding the Middle East—would not be debated by the House.

Instead there will be a general debate next week on a Labor party censure motion.

Answering questions, Lloyd said:

"It is not the function of this (UN) force to clear the canal. That is a separate, independent United Nations operation which I think will be prosecuted with the utmost vigor."

Aneurin Bevan, the Labor party's chief spokesman on foreign affairs, accused Lloyd of making his statement with "a twisted tongue." He said:

"I ask you to notice once more the sinister juxtaposition of the three points in your statement—one, the phased withdrawal of our troops; two, the clearance of the canal and three, the future of the canal."

Bevan said the government's apparent linking of withdrawal with an over-all settlement was "the chief stumbling block" between Britain on one hand and the United Nations and the States on the other.

"The removal of that stumbling block is in our opinion the most important object of the government," Bevan added.

Lloyd said this was a matter he would deal with Monday.

IN THE Service

Pvt. William F. Nieffer, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. Nieffer, 1 Beech street, Saugerties, is receiving basic training with the 3d Infantry Division at Fort Benning, Ga. Nieffer, who entered the Army this October, is a 1956 graduate of Albany College of Pharmacy and a former employe at Beadle's Pharmacy.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 29 (AP) — A burst of selling dragged the stock market down to its Oct. 1 low today but prices were improving early this afternoon.

Brokers speculated on whether a technical selling climax similar to that which occurred on Oct. 1, though on a smaller scale, had occurred.

Losses in pivotal stocks ran to about 3 points while prices took their worst beating. But on the recovery some of these declines were erased entirely.

As trading progressed the market, though still lower, showed a range of losses among key stocks running to a point or more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down $1.50 to $172.20 with the industrials down $2.50, the rails down $1.50 and the utilities down 20 cents.

On the American Stock Exchange prices declined in active trading.

Corporate bonds declined in quiet trading.

U. S. Government bonds leaned to the upside in quiet dealings.

U. S. Traffic Toll Takes Sharp Drop

Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll has taken a sharp drop — a turn the National Safety Council calls "amazing."

The council reported today that motor vehicle fatalities slumped 12 per cent in October.

It stated that the abrupt downturn:

Halted a rise that had extended through 19 consecutive months.

Completely reversed the normal seasonal trend.

Set up a chance to keep the 1956 total from reaching record heights.

Lowest Since 1949

Deaths on the streets and roads in October numbered 3,450. That was 12 per cent under the number who died in October, 1955. And it was the lowest toll for any October since 1949.

"Not since January of 1948," the council said, "had traffic deaths been reduced as much as 12 per cent in any month."

Usually fatalities are higher in October than in any preceding month of a year.

Council statisticians said that, if the rising trend of the first nine months of this year had carried through October, the October death total would have been about 800 higher.

Thus, in theory, at least, the sudden turnabout in October could be credited with saving about 800 lives.

Relations Break

part of the Europeans of their own oil transport capacity. This is to be done under the organization for European cooperation whose oil committee will work closely with the U. S. emergency committee.

3. Maintenance of a maximum flow of oil from the Middle East to the eastern Mediterranean coast through pipelines. At present this is a relatively small quantity in terms of Europe's needs. But a major concern of the United States has been to avoid arousing Arabs antagonism by the way in which the aid for western Europe was handled. Hence the importance attached here to evidence that the British and French troops were going to get out of Egypt right away.

To Help Other Nations

4. Arrangements still to be worked out in detail for meeting the oil requirements for many countries outside western Europe, including India, Pakistan, Turkey, Ethiopia and the like. American officials said interests of these countries must be protected.

5. Assistance in financing to be worked out probably some weeks from now when the size of Europe's need for financial help is known. This problem is expected to arise because countries like Britain and France have only a limited supply of dollars. As they increase their imports of oil, which must be paid for in dollars, they probably will need American loans to help pay for the "dollar oil."

Officials said that the closing of Suez and sabotage of Middle East pipelines has cut the supply of oil available to western Europe to about 65 per cent of normal use.

The best effort which the United States and the European Economic Organization can help make to meet the shortage probably will raise supplies up to 80-90 per cent. So despite everything which can be done there still will be some shortage of dustrial fuel in western Europe this winner.

members of the state employes retirement system.

The Republican plan would not cover teachers and New York city employes, since they are not members of the retirement system.

Under the legislation proposed by Harriman, individual workers could elect the coverage, provided a majority of their particular group had approved the plan.

The social security coverage would be provided automatically to future members of the state retirement system.

Newcombe Signs

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Dodger pitcher Don Newcombe signed his 1957 contract today after a short meeting with E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, Brooklyn vice president. It was believed his salary was hiked about $5,000 to $30,000 a year.

Statement Ties Seven Men in Riesel Attack

New York, Nov. 29 (AP) — A federal jury listened attentively today to the reading of purported statements by Gondolfo Miranti implicating seven men in the acid-blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel.

Named were three men now on trial and four to be tried later.

The prosecution indicated, meanwhile, it would call Riesel as a witness.

Given After Arrest

Miranti, one of three defendants currently on trial in the acid assault on the labor columnist, assertedly made the statements to the FBI after his arrest last Aug. 17.

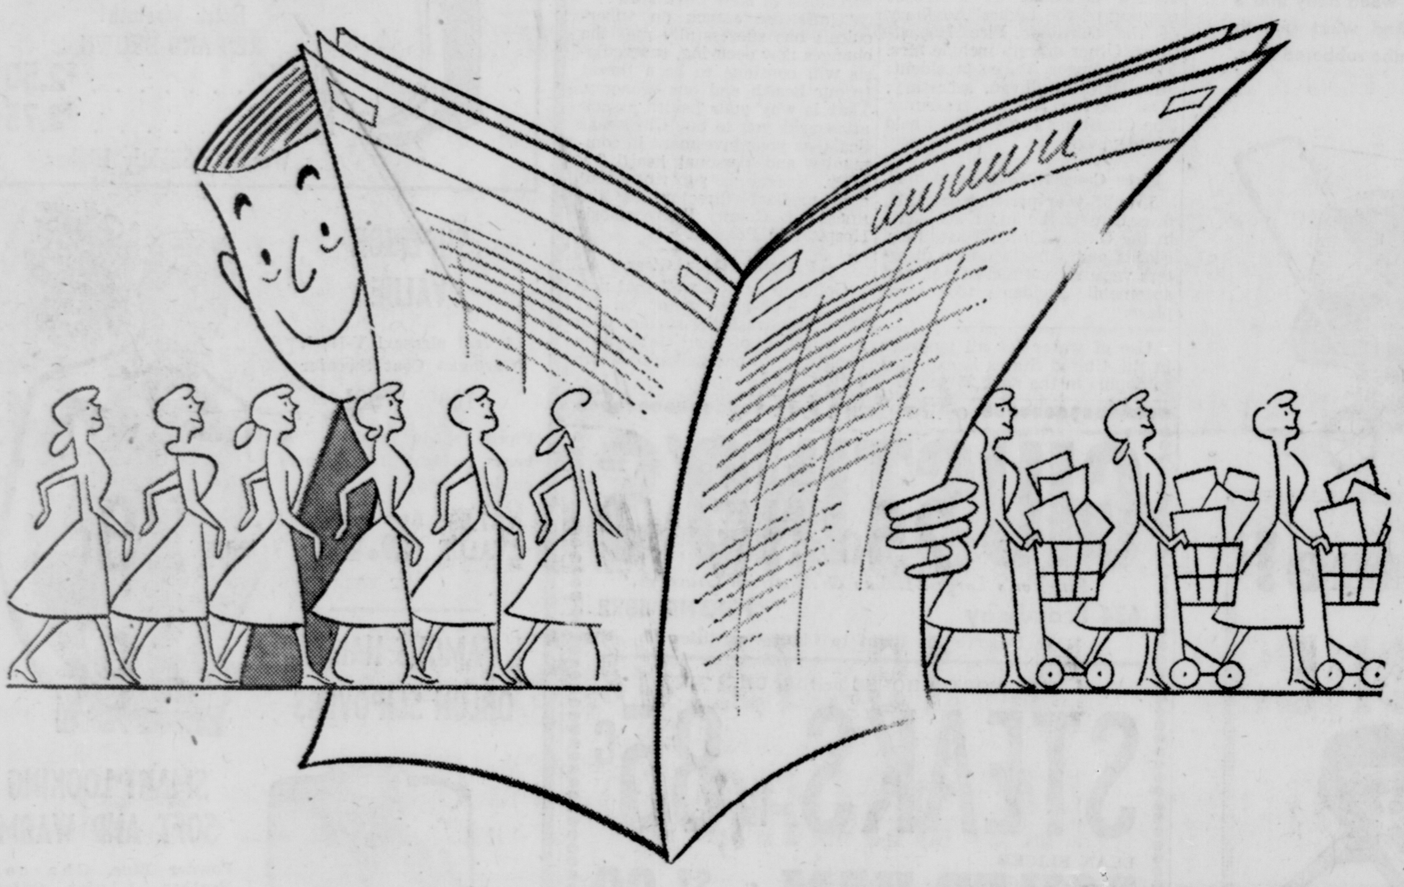

Riesel was blinded by acid when he emerged from a Broadway restaurant last April 5. His alleged assailant, Abe Telvi, later was found slain on a lower East Side street.

On trial with Miranti are Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, brother of Abe.

Four other defendants, including John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, labor racketeer, will be tried next.

It takes a GIANT to build a business...

a $575,000,000 business!

"Newspaper advertising has built our business." So spoke H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Company, America's fifth largest food chain. In a recent address to the members of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Markets, Mr. McNamara made it clear that, "newspaper advertising has been the greatest contributing factor in our sales increase . . . from $99,000,000 in 1944 to $575,000,000 in 1955."

Newspapers Get Results

"Newspaper advertising, both national and local, brings results, the kind of results you can measure on the cash register, or in stock movement, actual sales results, not next week, not next year, but as soon as the newspaper hits the streets. That's real ACTION ADVERTISING. That's the kind of impact that gets results—and that's the kind of advertising in which we like to invest our money."

Two-Thirds For "Action" Advertising

Since 1944 the National Tea Company has spent over $30,000,000 for advertising and sales promotion...and at least 66⅔ per cent of these advertising dollars has been invested in newspaper space.

"Until someone invents another medium that will do a better job of delivery of our advertising wrapped up in a fast reading package of news, pictures, and interesting, educational features, that will get deeper and more dominant home penetration than the daily newspaper, I will continue to recommend...that we earmark at least two-thirds of all advertising dollars for newspapers. Newspaper advertising is ACTION ADVERTISING that drives home the impact to get immediate results."

Nothing Sells Like Newspapers

Advertisers in every field share Mr. McNamara's views. They know that building sales in today's competitive market is a job for a giant . . . a job for newspapers. Only newspapers are big enough to reach into the smallest hamlet or to blanket the biggest city. That's why advertisers—big and small, national and local—are investing in newspapers at a record pace—$3,087,800,000 last year, more than was spent in radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined. Put the giant to work building sales for you.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

U. S. Oil Interests Blamed For Favoring Arab Nations

London, Nov. 29 (AP)—"The Americans are deliberately opposing British policies, deliberately wooing the Arabs, in order to kick us out of the Middle East and take our oil."

That argument is heard increasingly in British discussions of the Suez Canal dispute.

This attitude dominates the right-wing members of Prime Minister Eden's Conservative Party. It also cuts across political boundaries. It can be heard on the official and man-in-the-street level.

Oil Top Argument

Even those who oppose what they call "Eden's war in Egypt" ultimately come around to questioning America's motives.

"Of course, your oil interests, etc.," is the way it is put.

The smell of oil pervades all arguments here.

Everyone is aware that Britain's industrial machine and standard of living depend on oil from the Middle East.

As a result there is suspicion of any move that could be interpreted as an American commercial victory at British expense. That is how American policy generally is being interpreted.

American officials say it was "psychologically natural" for the British, confused and increasingly insecure as their nation's influence dwindles, to seek a scapegoat.

The phrase "American oil lobby," is becoming common currency. It recalls the "China lobby" description several years ago, when many Britons argued that American support of Nationalist China was leading the world to war.

Stanley Evans, a Laborite, was forced to resign from the House of Commons because he supported Prime Minister Eden's Middle East policy. He said:

"The American State Department is the impregnable fortress of the American oil companies and they see British Middle East oil growing to the stage when it might become competitive.

In Two Struggles

"The Americans have been engrossed in two main struggles—one against communism and the other against the sterling area. And they have now made up their minds that the more important struggle is against the sterling area."

Education Minister Sir David Eccles, a member of Eden's government, said in a political address:

"Why did not the Americans see the danger (in the Middle East) in time? One has the impression that they believed that money was all that mattered . . .

"Provided they paid dollars for their oil they believed no Arab government would gang up with the Communists. It has taken Anglo-French intervention with arms, and the Russian reaction to that intervention, to show the world that America must come into the Middle East politically and militarily as well as commercially."

Goes Back to 1951

The oil problem goes back to 1951 when Iranian Premier Mossadegh nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. holdings.

The Socialists were in power in Britain then. There was a clamor for Britain to use force to protect her interests. Politicians then said privately — and some in public—that Americans held Britain back. Some accused the State Department of actively supporting Mossadegh.

The Iranian question was settled when an international partnership was set up to market Iranian oil. American companies got a voice in Iranian oil affairs. Herbert Hoover Jr., now acting secretary of state, was the main architect of the partnership.

Court Accepts Statement as Part Of Frias Evidence

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—An unsigned statement in which Joseph Marsala purportedly accused co-defendant George Ruocco of firing the shot which killed Al Frias has been accepted as evidence in the murder trial.

The prosecution introduced the statement yesterday in the second trial of Marsala and Ruocco, both 26, on charges that they murdered Frias, of Fall River, Mass., in connection with a counterfeit money deal.

Frias' body was found April 22, 1955, beside a lonely road near Greenwood Lake, not far from Monroe, N. Y.

Defense Attorney Martin Rosenblum was overruled in his objection to having the unsigned statement accepted as evidence. The defense contends that even signed statements by the defendants were obtained under duress.

A number of witnesses took the stand yesterday to deny force was used in obtaining confession from Ruocco and Marsala.

The pair was arrested Aug. 9, 1955. A first trial at Newburgh, N. Y., last July resulted in a hung jury.

Radar Measures Rain

Miami, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Weather Bureau is trying to work out an effective means of measuring rainfall by radar in remote areas where there are neither gauges nor observers. Such measurements would be of great value in forecasting sudden floods which now sometimes ravage unprepared cities because very heavy rains fall far upstream and are not reported.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—One by one the myths about the old wild west are being exploded.

It has been shown pretty convincingly, for example, that the ordinary oldtime cowboy, far from being deadly in a gun fight, was usually lucky if he could hit the side of a wall in a saloon brawl.

Most revolver fights between cowboys shed more ammunition than blood.

But one belief the western fiction fan has stubbornly clung to—that the average Indian was a lousy shot compared to the average U. S. Cavalry trooper.

Turns Out as Fable

Alas, it turns out this is a fable, too. It seems that, gun for gun, the noble Redskin of the plains was usually more than a match for his blue-clad soldier foe. And if there had been more Indians with more guns we might all be speaking Sioux today and living in low-cost tepee projets instead of mortgaged homes.

Proof that the Indian was no slouch as a marksman—when he could get a rifle—is given in the current issue of "Guns" magazine by Stanley Vestal, a University of Oklahoma professor and noted western authority.

Quotes Report

He quotes a report to the secretary of war made by Gen. George Crook in 1876:

"I have seen our friendly Indians, riding at full speed, shoot and kill a wolf, also on the run, while it is a rare thing that our troops can hit an Indian on horseback, though the soldier may be on his feet at the time."

Vestel also compiled a box score of 12 major engagements in which a total of 10,356 Indians fought 5,249 whites. The results: Indians, 69 killed, 28 wounded; whites, 383 dead, 102 wounded.

"Other than the astonishingly low number of casualties on either side," Vestal said, the battles "reveal an important trait of the Sioux campaigns.

Fought Like Napoleon

"The Indians, like Napoleon, fought as a rule only when they had the advantage of numbers. The Sioux killed about five times as many white soldiers as they lost Indians killed, and wounded approximately four times as many whites.

"They did this with hardly half enough guns to go around under the best conditions, and with no cannon at all."

It has often been claimed that the reason a force of 1,000 Indians was able to wipe out 204 Seventh Cavalry troopers in Custer's last stand in the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876 was that renegades had supplied them all with repeating rifles.

Poor Weapons

"A fantastic yarn," said Vestal. "After the greatest effort, only about half of Sitting Bull's warriors . . . were able to obtain weapons. Of these, many had old flintlocks, condemned muskets, muzzle-loaders, smooth bores."

Army ordnance reports bear Vestal out. When the Indians later surrendered their weapons, 160 of the 284 long guns they turned in were old-fashioned muzzle-loaders and the rest were generally inferior to rifles carried by the U. S. cavalry.

Pointing out that every Indian had to arm himself at his own expense (they had no ordnance department), Vestal said it cost 20 Buffalo robes or several horses to buy even a breech-loading rifle.

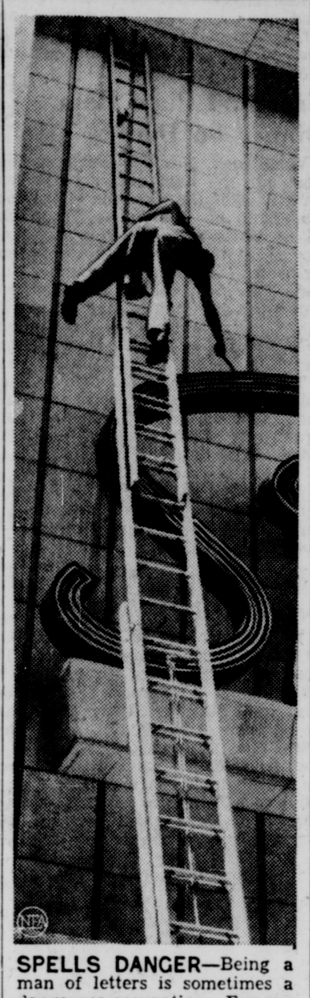

"Only rich Indians could afford repeaters, and rich Indians were no more numerous per capita than rich white men are."

Ammunition was so expensive that Indians with rifles conserved it for battle, and continued to hunt the buffalo with lance and bow and arrow.

Vestal said the Indian threat ended when the cavalry finally came up with rapid-fire gatling guns and Hotchkiss cannon.

"The warriors could not face artillary, and a good thing, too," he said. "Man to man, too often the Indians matched the whites' firepower superiority with brains, cunning and straight shooting, and won. With the few guns they had, the Indians could shoot well."

In two World Wars and in Korea thousands of American Indians also proved that, if anything, they could fight better on foot than their forefathers had on horseback.

Woodstock Music, Art Festival Is Planned

Woodstock, Nov. 29 — Plans are being formulated for the 1957 season of the Woodstock Festival of Music and Art which had such a fine beginning last summer. A permanent committee has been appointed, and they hope to present an even more varied and well-integrated program this coming summer, with the possibility of including dance and drama.

Last June a successful dinner and musicale was held in Byrdcliffe, for the purpose of raising funds to publicize the various activities of the Festival for 1956. On Saturday evening, Nov. 24, another dinner and musicale was held in the Woodstock Art Gallery for the purpose of securing funds for 1957. About one hundred people enjoyed the buffet supper prepared by the management of Galeena's Restaurant, and afterwards listened to a varied program which included vocal selections by three singers, and instrumental selections by members of the Kohon String Quartet.

Participating in the program were Molly Starkman who sang an aria from Korngold's opera "The Dead City," an Italian lullaby by Sadero, and an aria from Charpentier's opera "Louise"; and Bianca Mascvo who sang arrangements of two Australian aboriginal chants, two Japanese songs, two Yugoslavian songs, and a song by Prokofieff. They were both accompanied by Hanus A. Schimmerling on the piano. The third singer was Penny Carlson who sang two songs written by Alexander Semmler who accompanied her, as well as several others.

During the intermission, Mr. Semmler spoke about a new project of the Woodstock Festival Committee which aroused great enthusiasm. He showed the audience the dummy of a booklet which is to be published this spring, which explains what Woodstock stands for, and has space devoted to art, music, drama and crafts. The booklet will also contain complete programs for the whole summer, in regard to exhibits, plays and concerts. The committee hopes to print 10,000 of these booklets, which will be on sale in convenient places.

It was stated that Mr. Semmler, Mr. Schimmerling and now the Turnau Opera Players, who have recently enlarged the Byrdcliffe Theatre to accommodate greater audiences next summer, have given a tremendous boost to the musical life of Woodstock. They have recognized the necessity for working as a group. Not only have they endeavored to integrate the various musical activities, but they are cooperating with the artists, as well as with Mr. A. L. Sainer, manager of the Woodstock Playhouse, in an endeavor to correlate all of Woodstock's cultural activities.

Woodstock has long been a leader in the artistic life of America, Mr. Semmler said. Woodstock has outstanding painters, musicians, writers, actors and craftsmen. "Its people have shown that they have great enthusiasm and energy. All that we need to put Woodstock's Festival in the forefront, is a united effort on the part of all of us who make our homes in Woodstock. The Festival Committee is providing the channel through which this effort can be utilized to the best advantage. Let's all give them our support!"

Third International Film Festival Is Set

Woodstock, Nov. 29 — Sidney Berkowitz of Woodstock, who is chairman of the Third International Art Film Festival, has announced that the Rockefeller Foundation has awarded a grant to the American Federation of Arts for the Third Art Film Festival in America to be held at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, April 26, 27 and 28, 1957.

The festival will be co-sponsored by the College Art Association.

Films dealing exclusively with art subjects will be screened by a committee composed of writers, critics, film makers, film distributors, museum directors, artists and others interested in art. Films may be entered which relate to the arts of painting, sculpture, architecture, drawing, engraving, etc. The purpose of the festival is to encourage the better production and wider distribution and use of the film on art. Film makers are invited to submit films made in the years from 1953 to 1957 for submission to the screening committee for selection.

The festival will include films showing artists in relation to their work and their environment, films whose visual content consists primarily of works of art, films used as a medium of art criticism and films in which the artist uses film as art material.

Films not included within the scope of this festival are instructional and "how to do it" films; films dealing with other arts such as dance or music.

Film makers who wish to submit films may fill out entry blanks, one for each film and return them to the Third International Art Film Festival, 29 East 64th street, New York, N. Y. Either 16mm or 35mm copies are acceptable, color or black and white. All films elected for showing at the festival will receive an award certificate.

The showing of the festival will consist of three performances each day starting at 5 p. m.

For further information and entry blanks, please contact Mrs. Penelope Strouth, executive secretary, at the above address.

Carl Wuermer Exhibit Extended to Dec. 1

Woodstock, Nov. 29—The exhibition of recent landscapes by Woodstock artist, Carl Wuermer which opened Nov. 13, at the Grand Central Galleries, 15 Vanderbilt avenue, New York city, scheduled to close Nov. 24, has been extended to Dec. 1. The artist reports that he has made a number of sales, among them, one large winter scene to John Jacob Astor.

The following review of Wuermer's show appeared in the New York Times, Friday, Nov. 16: "Long associated with the Woodstock, New York, art colony, Carl Wuermer paints directly and with sensitivity landscapes clearly seasonal — the gold and russet of trees in autumn with misty blue background of hills, or the linear arabesques of bare trees dark against snow, or the flowering of fruit trees amid the young greens of spring. Foliage is picked out with meticulous care, even literalness in these basically poetic conceptions."

He is a member of the Allied Artists of America, and president of the Artists Fellowship. The latter is a charitable organization for the benefit of American Artists, founded in 1868. It also awards medals to individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the welfare of art in America generally; past recipients have been (among others): Henry Luce, Archer Huntington, Chester Dale, Thomas J. Watson, Huntington Hartford.

Mr. Wuermer has been identified with the art colony of Woodstock since 1925.

Troop 34 Plans Ham Dinner on Dec. 6

Woodstock, Nov. 29—Preparations for the ham dinner to be served under the direction of the leadership of Boy Scout Troop 34 of Woodstock on Thursday, Dec. 6, at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, are well under way. The meal will be prepared under the direction of Mrs. Warren Graver and served in the basement dining room under the direction of Mrs. Donald Davis.

Tickets are being handled by leaders of the Scout Troop under the supervision of Richard Braen and Scoutmaster William Doran. The entire proceeds are to go to the Troop, which is badly in need of camping and other equipment. Serving will continue throughout the evening beginning at 5:30 p. m.

Schimmerling Work Scheduled Dec. 12

Woodstock, Nov. 29—Hanus A. Schimmerling, Woodstock composer received word from the Philadelphia Composers Forum that his "Trio for Strings" will be performed on Dec. 12. A few days later, the composer was informed that the same trio will be played in Barnard College of Columbia University on the same day, Dec. 12. A third performance is scheduled by the Chicago Chapter of the International Society for Contemporary Music.

P-TA to Hear Exchange Students on Dec. 6

Woodstock, Nov. 29 — Residents are reminded of the unusual meeting which has been announced by Loryne Connick, chairman of the program committee for the Woodstock Parent-Teachers Association, scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 6, at 8 p. m. Miss Melinda Basch, a Kingston High School student who recently returned from Germany and Laura Baronchillo, an exchange student at the high school whose home is in Italy, will address the meeting. Clifford Miller, principal of Kingston High School, will act as moderator for the program.

Community Concert Set In Kingston Dec. 4

Woodstock, Nov. 29—The sensational German dance team, Koester and Stahl, will open the Community Concert Association season in Kingston, Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 8:30 at the Community Theatre. Also included in the three concert series are William Warfield, noted baritone, January 9 and the New York Philharmonic Symphony, April 8.

The dance team will be making its first American tour and will be debuted for TV audiences on the Ed Sullivan Show, Sunday, Dec. 2.

In Berlin, where Koester and Stahl are the principal dancers of the Municipal Opera, they have been a sensation from the first. Not once but five times they have jammed the enormous Olympian Stadium in the German capital. Last season they drew 18 sold-out houses in Moscow. This year they have fulfilled nearly 50 engagements throughout Germany and Czechoslovakia.

They will be assisted by Hans Kessner at the piano.

Proposed New System To Attract Firemen

Woodstock, Nov. 29—The Rev. Harvey I. Todd, in a letter to The Freeman, today suggested a procedure to attract more men "who actually report for fire fighting work."

The Rev. Mr. Todd said his suggestions were prompted by the proposed reclassification of fire department membership "in order to differentiate between those who actively participate in the work of fire fighting and maintenances and those who simply want to be identified with the organization for social purposes." His letter reads as follows:

"I note that the fire company is considering the advisability of reclassifying its membership in order to differentiate between those who actively participate in the work of fire-fighting and maintenances and those who simply want to be identified with the organization for social purposes. As I survey the situation, it seems to me that what is needed is more men who actually report for fire-fighting work. This leads me to suggest a procedure that with proper amendment and change will assure this:"

"1) Every member on the rolls as they stand now or as they may stand later after the change suggested above should be assigned to some specific work of fire-fighting;

2) The classes of work may be such as hose-men, nozzle-men, ladder-men, messengers and police in some ratio as 3-3-1-1-2 in every ten;

3) Each man on the membership roll should be asked if he is willing to take one of these jobs and be assigned to one of them;

4) Foremen and assistant-foremen should be appointed in the various sections such as Rock City, Bearsville road, etc.;

5) These foremen and their assistants should assemble at definite periods the men in the sections and see that each is given training in his particular job and in the others as well;

6) In case of a fire, however, the men as they report for duty shall take the work that has to be done first no matter what the particular assignment of any may be, if there is none of the class doing that job at hand. Each will later yield that work to another assigned to it at the direction of a foreman or assistant or as common sense or needs dictate;

7) Letters and reply cards should be sent out through the mail to each member on the roll to learn whether he is willing to be assigned to a definite work, and if he is not, he should be enrolled with those who want only a social connection;

8) This in no way would effect the status of the qualified drivers, who are selected and approved by the proper authority, nor the chief and his assistants."

Village Notes

Woodstock, Nov. 29—Jacqueline Ellen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Flynt of West Hurley, was baptized by the Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, Sunday, Nov. 25, following the service.

The second and final reading of the proposed resolution to amend the requirements for active membership in Woodstock Fire Company No. 1, will take place at the regular meeting, Monday, Dec. 3 at 8 p. m., at the fire hall.

The Young Women's Guild of the Woodstock Lutheran Church will hold a Christmas sale at the parsonage, next door to the church, on Saturday. The sale starts at 9:30 a. m. and will continue until 5 p. m. An assortment of articles and food will be on sale.

Would Raise Rates

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Spokesmen for commercial health insurance plans have told a legislative committee that proposed state legislation affecting policy renewals would raise premium rates as much as 35 per cent. They expressed that view yesterday at a hearing held by the joint committee headed by State Sen. George R. Metcalf, Auburn Republican. The proposed legislation which the health insurance plan representatives discussed would grant policyholders the right to annual renewals regardless of age or physical condition.

Baptist Yule Fair At Church Tonight

The first annual church-wide sponsored Christmas Fair began with a luncheon at 11 o'clock today and will continue throughout the day at the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue at Broadway.

In readiness for the noon hour lunch period were all of the special booths displaying a variety of goods from jewelry, ideal Christmas gifts to homemade food and baked goods.

A roast beef dinner is scheduled tonight from 6 to o'clock with admission by tickets only.

David E. Smith, chairman of the fair, said today, however, that those without dinner tickets still are invited to be at the church early tonight to enjoy the many booths.

"We have quite a display of articles in the booths and we're sure they'll create a lot of interest—both for home use and for Christmas gifts."

Another feature of the "Santa's Workshop" Fair will be a Santa's pack for both children and adults.

There is no admission to the booth area and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Air Force Tries New Jet Training System

Laredo Air Force Base, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP)—The Air Force announced today a bold experiment in flight training which puts student pilots into jets after only 40 hours—instead of the customary 130 hours—of piston-engine flying experience.

A prelude to the era of an all-jet air force, the experiment could change the entire concept of instructing military pilots.

Already one of the "guinea pig" flyers, 2nd Lt. Donald J. Tweedy of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., has soloed—in a powerful, fast and heavy Lockheed T33 jet trainer—after only 15 hours and 5 minutes of jet flying with an instructor, and after a total flying time in piston and jet planes combined of only 55 hours—perhaps a new record of its kind.

Stevedores Accept Hike

San Francisco, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ship owners and 16,000 west coast longshoremen agreed on a 16-cent hourly pay hike yesterday. The boost, retroactive to Oct. 1, gave stevedores a wage of $2.45 an hour. Only wage terms were open for review. The no-strike contract runs until June, 1958. A joint announcement of the settlement was made by the Pacific Maritime Assn. and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union.

Ted Husing Is Gravely Ill

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Ted Husing, 55, one of the foremost sports announcers in radio history, is gravely ill here in a convalescent home.

He is suffering from a brain tumor that two operations have failed to remove. The voice familiar to millions of Americans for 30 years is fading. So is his eyesight.

Needs Visitors

A nurse at the Burke Foundation where he is a patient said he is lonely and that he needs visitors—the kind who will talk, not about medicine and illness, but about sports and other events of his happier days.

After years of sports announcing, Husing became a disc jockey 10 years ago. He reputedly earned $250,000 a year from the program, "Ted Husing's Bandstand."

He became seriously ill for the first time in his life about two years ago, complaining of a pain in his spine. He developed a limp.

No Reading

He entered the New York Hospital, Westchester division, in White Plains, for several months and then transferred to the Burke Foundation.

Because of his failing eyesight, he does not try to read. And, perhaps because it reminds him of what he would be doing today if he were not ill, he seldom listens to the radio.

MR. AND MRS. GRANT SCHOONMAKER
(Marks Photo)

Miss Mabel Freer, daughter of Mrs. George Carman of Gardiner, and the late Valentine Freer, became the bride of Grant Schoonmaker of Accord, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Schoonmaker, Saturday, Nov. 24 at 2 p. m. in the Gardiner Reformed Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, George Carman. The Rev. Kenneth Cordes, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with two baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations.

Mrs. Frank Agar, organist, played the traditional wedding music. William Keeping of Gardiner was soloist.

Mrs. Georgianna Bowman of Walden, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of turquoise net over taffeta and a matching head band with a short veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

The bride's mother wore a smoke blue taffeta dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held at Highland Grange Hall.

Mrs. Schoonmaker attended Wallkill Central School and her husband was a student at Kerhonkson High School.

For her trip to New York city, the bride chose a blue lace dress and topper with pink and black accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink roses.

The couple plan to make their future home in Florida.

Ike Urges Full U. S. Support of Red Cross Appeal

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—The American Red Cross today launched an emergency drive for five million dollars for Hungarian relief, and President Eisenhower appealed for generous contributions.

The decision to conduct the special drive was announced at the President's vacation headquarters after Eisenhower received word of the plan from E. Roland Harriman, the Red Cross chairman.

"The conditions of disaster and privation which require this emergency relief have been accurately described from day to day publicly by our news-reporting media. Amidst all their trials, the courage of the Hungarian people has been an inspiration to all freedom-loving peoples the world over."

Canadian Dollar High

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Canadian dollar was at a 23-year high on New York foreign exchange markets today. It closed yesterday at $1.04 15/32 in terms of U. S. currency, highest since the record of $1.05⅝ in November, 1933. Dealers said the increase resulted from international tensions. They said investors had switched funds from the Middle East and Europe to Canada and the United States. They said the influx had been more marked on Canadian exchange because there is a large volume of U. S. currency in circulation.

William Howard Taft was the only President of the United States to ever serve as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

THERE'LL BE SOME CHANGES MADE—On the basis of new population estimates for 1956 by the Census Bureau, there could be a shift of between 15 and 20 electoral votes resulting from the 1960 census. California will gain the most, with an increase of six to eight electoral votes, while the Northeast—New York, Pennsylvania and part of New England—loses a combined total of eight to 10. Census Bureau cites a movement of people from farms and small towns to cities. Newsmap, above, shows states likely to be affected, and the number of electoral votes before and after the estimated changes.

Falconry Topic At Rotary; Will Honor Wicks

Dr. Heinz Meng, professor of biology and ornithology at New Paltz State Teachers College, gave an interesting talk on falconry—the sport of taking wild fowl by means of falcons—at the Kingston Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

A number of interesting slides were shown illustrating the work of falconers in training falcons and hawks for hunting. It was explained that hawks serve a very useful purpose in destroying mice, reptiles and insects. As exhibits, Dr. Meng brought with him a falcon and a hawk.

President Sabin announced that next Wednesday's meeting would be in honor of Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who has been a member of the Kingston Rotary Club since 1917. The program will be aimed at honoring the Senator as a Rotarian. Senator Wicks will speak on his 30 years of service as a state senator in Albany.

$4 Trillion Seen U. S. Cost Of 3rd War

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 29 (AP)—A third world war would cost the United States four trillion dollars, the National Resources Conference was told yesterday.

"There is only one thing that is worth that price," said Navy Capt. Lawrence Smith, "and that is freedom."

Capt. Smith said the estimate of the fantastic cost is based on what it cost this country in previous wars.

"Each one that we have fought has cost roughly 10 times more than the one that preceeded it," Capt. Smith said.

Public Must Press For Mental Care, Speaker Declares

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—A nationally known mental hospital official said today that "only with wide public support" can conditions in the nation's mental hospitals be improved.

Dr. Winfred Overholser, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Federal Hospital here, declared "such support, however, must be organized to be felt."

Dr. Overholser said in a speech prepared for the opening of the three-day convention of the National Assn. for Mental Health, a nationwide voluntary organization:

"Active programs of treatment and rehabilitation must be provided in our hospitals, aimed at returning patients to the community.

"Early treatment facilities must be provided in cities and towns thereby reducing the need of later hospitalization and instead of keeping patients in their homes.

"Research and ever more research must be undertaken into the causes, prevention and treatment of mental illness.

"More personnel — physicians, nurses, psychologists and social workers — must be trained to meet the ever-increasing professional needs."

Farm Debt Doubles In Last Nine Years

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP) — Farm debt has more than doubled in the last nine years and the average bank debt for each farm borrower was $2,227 in mid-1956, the Federal Reserve Board said today.

An agricultural loan survey by the board disclosed the total of all farm debt last June stood at a record 18½ billion dollars, an increase of 6 per cent from mid-1955.

The results of the survey, published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin, put the total farm debt at somewhat more than one-tenth of the total value of farm assets. The Agriculture Department has estimated farm assets will reach a record high of about 176 billion dollars next Jan. 1.

The reserve bulletin said about five billion dollars of the farm debt was made at insured commercial banks by 2,300,000 borrowers. The number of borrowers included nearly half the operating farmers in the nation.

Paper Attacks Israel

London, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper bitterly attacked Israel today, warning that her "very existence as a state is at stake." Izvestia accused Israel of threatening her Arab neighbors from the first day the Jewish nation was established and added that "the Israeli rulers are pushing the country on the road to suicide." The article was distribtued by Tass and broadcast in English by the Moscow radio.

Democrats Count On Progressives, Schuler Declares

The future of the Democratic party is secure nationally and locally Raymond T. Schuler Jr. told the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club at its regular meeting this week in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mr. Schuler, who was on the national campaign staff for Adlai E. Stevenson in the last election, based his statement on the development of young progressive leaders such as Governor Ribbicoff of Connecticut, Senator Kennedy of Masschusetts, Senator-elect Lausche of Ohio, Governor Williams of Michigan and Governor Meyner of New Jersey.

He read a message from Mr. Stevenson pointing out the challenge that Democrats have to more fully serve their community, state and nation. Mr. Schuler said "we as Democrats must accept this challenge and stand ready to serve all the people of the city and county."

Mrs. Betty Keller, president of the club, announced the Christmas party will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7 p. m.

Toys Mimic Way We Live

The toys under this year's Christmas trees will reflect the way that America lives as they never have done before. A child's love of imitation can be safely satisfied with toys that teach and are fun, too. Ingenious new doll stroller (left) for little sister converts into an auto seat and a doll swing, combining three toys in one. New eight-inch dolls with "rooted" hair that can be shampooed are every bit as fashionable as their larger sisters of last year. They have complete wardrobes (upper right) scaled to size. New electric mixer (lower right) is powered by a flashlight battery, will whip up pretty toppings for soups or puddings. Every part is safety-engineered and the head of the mixer tilts back.

Lutherans Will Observe Advent Season Sunday

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties, will usher in the four-week season of Advent beginning Sunday, Dec. 2, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. Richard I. Crossland, pastor.

"This season, which ushers in a new year in the Liturgical Calendar of the church, is a season of meditative preparation of the heart, the conscious drawing to God through self-examination, prayer and praise, as we prepare for the coming of Jesus Christ, whose nativity we celebrate at Christmas," he added.

"In order to help deepen the Christian meaning of Advent, the congregation will have an Advent Wreath in the chancel of the church. The ancient custom of lighting the Advent Wreath in church is beloved by Lutherans of Scandinavia and Western Europe and lends itself well to teaching the meaning of the Advent Season," the Rev. Mr. Crossland said.

In explaining the symbolism of the Advent Wreath, the pastor pointed out that the circular form of the wreath represents the earth's orbit and the ceaseless flow of time; the purple ribbons represent the color of the Advent Season; the four candles represent the four Sundays in Advent and the 4,000 years of waiting for Christ's first coming and symbolize the Light of the World at His first and second Advent. At each service, in addition to the Epistle and Gospel, an Old Testament Prophecy concerning the coming of Christ is read, after which a candle is lit, so that by the end of the fourth week, all four candles are lit.

In addition, Pastor Crossland said, "A star will be hung from the wreath each evening, beginning Saturday, Dec. 1, which contains an Old Testament Prophecy on one side and the New Testament fulfillment on the other side, and continuing until the end of the Advent Season.

This Sunday, the first Sunday in Advent, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at the Services at 8 and 11 a. m. and Pastor Crossland's meditation will be "Prepare Ye."

"It is hoped," Pastor Crossland concluded, "that many people of the community will avail themselves of using the church for their daily devotions during Advent. The church is open daily for prayer and meditation from 8:30 a. m. until 10 p. m."

Tito's UN Press Correspondent Is Seeking Asylum

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—The UN correspondent for Yugoslav President Tito's Communist party newspaper has resigned to seek political asylum in the United States.

Correspondent Jakov Levi protested Yugoslavia's initial defense of Soviet intervention in Hungary and the arrest of Milovan Djilas, a critic of Tito.

With Paper Since '53

Levi has been correspondent at the UN for the newspaper Borba since 1953. He said he did not know whether America would admit him as an exile.

The official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said shortly after Russian troops moved into Hungary to crush the anti-Soviet revolt that it regretted it was necessary for the Soviet Union to intervene. Later Tito said in a speech in Pula, Yugoslavia, that the decision to unleash Soviet troops in Hungary was "a fatal error."

Denouncing Tito's government, Levi said:

Bard Students Form Committee To Aid Refugees

Students of Bard College have formed a committee to aid Hungarian students fleeing Communist oppression in their country. Under the auspices of the World University Service, the group will undertake to raise funds on the campus and will place collection boxes in neighboring communities. Persons interested in assisting Hungarian student refugees may also send checks to "Hungarian Student Relief", in care of Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson.

Recognizing the responsibility of the free world and particularly the United States, the committee hopes to enlist the aid of as many residents as possible. It will welcome suggestions, help in its work and is prepared to send speakers to discuss the Hungarian relief problem with clubs and other organizations.

The World University Service which is directing this work is sponsored by the United States Student Christian Council, the Hillel Foundation, the National Newman Club and the World Christian Federation, and many others. WUS representatives on campus are already active in soliciting funds to aid student victims of South Africa's Apartheid laws, as well as victims of oppression in Hungary. It is a voluntary organization which supervises a program of assistance for students throughout the free world.

Gold Medal Total Now 19

American Cagers Rout Russian Quintet, 85-55

Melbourne, Nov. 29 (AP)—America's Olympians stuffed their 19th victory into an already bulging bag of gold, set up another in the demanding decathlon and gave Russia a 30-point whipping in basketball today. But they surrendered the spotlight to the first full-fledged rhubarb of the 1956 games.

The 3,000 meter steeplechase, which usually manages to produce a surprise, came through in king-sized fashion when rank outsider Chris Brasher of England won, lost, then won again after hitting the tape a full 15 yards clear in a record-smashing performance.

The Olympic jury of honor finally awarded Brasher the gold medal after he had been disqualified for interference in favor of Hungary's Sandor Rozsnyoi.

A squabble over the result raged long after Villanova's Charlie Jenkins had rushed home first in the 400-meter run, versatile Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson had begun opening up a big lead in the decathlon and basketball All-America Bill Russell and Co. had smothered Russia, 85-55 in another star-spangled display.

With the day's finals over, the U. S. led Russia 318 to 219½ in the unofficial team totals.

New Olympic Record

Brasher's victory, and his spectacular clocking of 8 minutes 41.2 seconds—more than four seconds under the Olympic mark set by Horace Ashenfelter in his stunning victory for the U. S. In 1952—was announced to an almost empty stadium three hours after the race.

Rozsnyoi, so close to revolt-smashed Hungary's first gold medal of the games, was second. The only U. S. entry, Charles Jones of Boystown, Neb., was a well beaten ninth. Ashenfelter failed to qualify.

Jenkins, whose home is in Cambridge, Mass. and who has done his best running indoors, ignored a bitter, cold wind to win the 400 by a stride from Germany's Karl Haas. World record holder Lou Jones of the U. S. was a disappointing fifth. Jenkins' time was :46.7, eight-tenths off the games' record.

12th Track Medal

It was the 12th gold medal scored by Uncle Sam's mighty track and field squad. The cast for another was forged as Campbell, a former Indiana track and football star from Plainfield, N. J., and Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingsburg, Calif., pulled well ahead of the field in the first day of the decathlon competition.

With four of the day's five events completed, Campbell led with 3,642 points and Johnson was next with 3,475.

Campbell, runnerup to Bob Mathias in the 1952 decathlon when he was a 17-year-old school-boy, was brilliant — winning the 100 meter dash in 10.8, the shot put with 48 feet, 5 inches, and the high jump with 6-2. Johnson, who holds the world record in the 10-event test of all-around track and field ability, won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, one inch, was second in the high jump, tied for second in the sprint, and took third in the shot put.

Close for One Half

The long-awaited U. S.-Russian basketball meeting was close for only a half, at which time the Americans held only a 39-32 advantage. The fabulous Russell, used sparingly in the first half, took charge after the intermission and sparked the U. S. into a 29-7 burst in seven minutes that annihilated the Soviet threat.

The United States, still unbeaten and after its fourth consecutive championship, faces Uruguay in the final round tomorrow night. France, which handed Uruguay its first defeat tonight 66-62, will meet Russia in the other game tomorrow night. The Frenchmen are the only other club with a decision over the Soviets.

Bud Jeangerard, former Colorado ace, chipped in with 14 points at the U. S. cagers swept unbeaten into the four-team final round.

Our last surviving woman sprinter, Mae Faggs of Bayside, N. Y., was eliminated in the 200-meter dash semifinals.

Boxers Fare Poorly

The U. S. boxing team had a mediocre day, losing three of five quarterfinal bouts.

Light heavyweight Jim Boyd of Rocky Mount, N. C. and heavyweight Pete Rademacher of Grandview, Wash., advanced to the semifinals to join Jose Torres of Puerto Rico, who made it Wednesday.

Russia, meantime, qualified four and could make it six before the semis begin tomorrow.

U. S. Leads With 19 Gold Medals

Melbourne, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United States tops the Olympics medals table with 19 first places after today's events. Table includes medals won at the equestrian games at Stockholm in summer and also two third place medals in 400 meter run where tie was registered.

U. S. Grapplers Gain 2nd Round

Melbourne, Nov. 29 (AP) — Americans Myron Roderick, Bill Fischer, J. T. Evans, and Peter Blair survived the second round of the Olympic freestyle wrestling tournament today, although Blair suffered his first defeat.

Blair, decisioned by Bror Palm of Sweden in a light heavyweight match, stayed in the tournament under the rule which keeps an entry in competition until he has five penalty marks against him. Blair, from Waukegan, Ill., now has three marks. Another defeat would cause his elimination, as it did early in today's program for Lee Allen, a bantamweight from Troutsdale, Ore.

Roderick, a featherweight from Stillwater, Okla., won his second straight bout, scoring a fall in two minutes over Richard Elliott of Australia.

Fischer, who has lost once, won by points over Nari Sorouri of Iran in a welterweight bout. His home is in Baltimore.

Evans, who lives in Los Angeles, won a lightweight bout on points from Shigeru Kasahara of Japan.

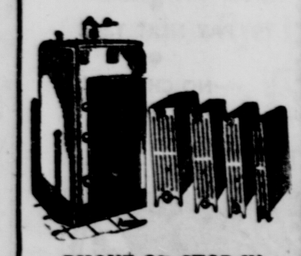

Middleweight Dan Hodge also advanced, defeating Finland's Viljo Punkari on points.

Indians Name Farrell Pilot

Cleveland, Nov. 29 (AP)—Pleasure teasing his face into an almost constant grin, Kerby Farrell emerged in public last night as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians.

So far as could be learned from him or Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg, Farrell took the job with no definite understanding on either the length of his contract or his salary.

"All I wanted was the chance to manage a big league team, and this was it," said the 43-year-old native of Tennesse who piloted the Indianapolis Indians to baseball's Little World Series championship last fall. "I can't tell you how happy and thrilled I am to get it."

A common guess is that Farrell will get around $25,000 in his first year as the 16th manager of the American League history of the Indians.

Farrell was the first self-declared candidate when Al Lopez quit after six seasons.

Indianapolis last season won the American Assn. pennant and swept the Little World Series from Rochester in four games. Farrell also guided the club to a pennant in 1954.

Leafs' Kennedy To Try Comeback

(By The Associated Press)

The Toronto Maple Leafs, seeking to improve their fifth place standing in the National Hockey League, may be bolstered by the return of former captain Ted Kennedy.

Kennedy said today he will attempt a comeback "if it will help the club."

The Leafs need plenty of help. Last night they were dumped further back as the New York Rangers edged the pacesetting Boston Bruins 2-1 in the league's only action. The triumph moved the Rangers into fourth place with 17 points. Toronto has 16.

Kennedy, a star center for 12 seasons, retired last April. He needs the approval of the five other NHL clubs to be reinstated.

Dean Prentice and Lorne Worsley were the key men in last night's Ranger victory. Prentice scored the winning goal early in the third period while Worsley, in the nets, kept Boston's offense in hand after Jerry Toppazzini's second period marker. Andy Bathgate got the other New York goal.

Bill Kenville, above, former St. Bonaventure and Syracuse National star, will appear against his old teammates when the Fort Wayne Pistons play Syracuse in a regular National Basketball Association contest on Tuesday, Dec. 4, at the Albany Armory.

Woman Leads All Anglers in Wehle Contest

Thirty-six New York state people recently were made happy by the announcement of the Grand Prize Winners in the Louis A. Wehle Fishing Contest for 1956. They were those anglers who caught the three largest fish in each of twelve classifications eligible in the contest.

Outstanding among the winners was an angler who set an all-time record in the Muskalonge division—Mrs. Ruth Lawton of Delmar, New York, who established this record with a huge 60 lb. 8 oz. Musky, taken from the St. Lawrence River on Sept. 16.

Mrs. Lawton comes by her fishing powers naturally, however. Witness the fact that her husband walked away with second prize in the same division with a 52 lb. 5 oz. 'Lunker.— Last year Mr. Lawton took the Grand Prize in the muskalonge class with a fish that was the all-time Wehle contest winner— until this year when his wife topped it with her 60 lb. 8 oz. catch.

This year saw the largest fish ever to win a prize in the Wehle contest and almost the smallest — certainly the smallest brook trout. Otis Woodard of Syracuse won 3rd prize in September with a brook trout weighing only 10½ ounces.

Burke Captures TV Golf Match

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 29 (AP)—Jackie Burke, a $2,000 winner yesterday by a stroke, was booked for another round of "slow motion" golf today in the eighth of a series of television exhibition matches.

Burke was matched today against E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

Yesterday Jackie shot a 4-under-par 66 at Tucson Country Club to beat Jimmy Demaret in the seventh round of the 13-match series, which is being played at a snail's pace so the television cameras can keep up with the players. The cameras are recording the proceedings for release next year as a TV feature.

Demaret received $1,000 as the loser and dropped from the series.

Chicago (NEA)—Seven of the last nine heavyweight championship fights have ended in a knockout.

Crimmins Quits As Grid Coach At Indiana U.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 28 (AP)—Bernie Crimmins has resigned as head football coach at Indiana University.

In tendering his resignation to university president, Herman B. Wells, the former Notre Dame All-America said:

"I am greatly disappointed that we have not had more successful football seasons during my tenure as head coach at Indiana. I felt that many unfortunate incidents, including an undue number of injuries have entered into the lack of success. But for the good of the football team and of the university, I feel I should terminate my services at Indiana."

Crimmins came to Indiana in 1952. The past season was his fifth. During that time Indiana won 13 games and lost 32. In Big Ten games, he won six and lost 24.

14,246 Attend Tropical Opener

Miami, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—Florida's long thoroughbred racing season got away to a booming start yesterday when 14,246 spectators poured a record $839,773 through the pari-mutuel windows at Tropical Park.

River Divide Farm's Decathlon, 3-year-old son of Olympia out of Dog Blessed by War Dog, won the first division of the Tropical Inaugural with a scintillating performance equaling the track and world record of 1:03 1/5 for the five and a half furlongs.

Decathlon, ridden by jockey Willie Hartack, carried 126 pounds and won by four and a half lengths over Elkcam Stable's Apollo. Mrs. Ben Cohen's War Age was third.

The second division, a wide-open horse race, went to Hasty House Farm's Grandpaw, a 4-year-old who had won twice in 16 starts.

Grandpaw's time was 1:05 and he won in a photo finish over Sunny Blue Farm's Supreme Joy and Buddah Stable's Gold Nose.

My Peggy Captures Yonkers Feature

Yonkers, Nov. 29 (AP)—My Peggy, driven by Archie Niles, Jr., came from behind to win the featured Stamford Pace at Yonkers Raceway last night.

The winner crossed the wire two lengths in front of the early-pacesetter, Meadow Royal. American Way finished third.

My Peggy paced the mile in 2:05 4/5, and paid $10.80.

Rabbits have sharp but short-distance eyesight. They can see well in almost a full circle.

Two topnotch young bowlers are very much in the limelight these days, what with Jimmy Amendola crashing a 741 series and Jerry Oster making his bid for the National All Stars singles title in the tournament that starts Friday at the Chicago Coliseum.

Amendola, one of the more colorful characters on the local tenpin scene, was cruising along at a 187 gait in the Hudson Valley League, before he exploded for his sensational 741 series Saturday night.

In effect, Jimmy has arrived among the tenpin elite. It was a long, tough haul for the personable, former tavern operator but he earned his varsity JD with smashing finality. An intense competitor, he will be rubbing shoulders with the bowling Ferrises for many years to come.

Oster, a talented young import from Detroit, could easily become the best match game shooter the area has ever seen. His phenomenal 1017 four-game series, followed by an 884 indicate he is at peak form, razor sharp, ready and eager.

The eyes of the local bowling world will be on him, wishing him success in the most important test of his young career. What a thrill it would be to see him in the nationally televised finals on Dec. 9! That's a big order but Jerry is the kind of prospect who seems destined for big things.

• Splits and Misses:

Peter Keresman, founder of the Kingston Bowling Association who must be somewhat chagrined at some of the things happening these days within the KBA, has returned from a Florida siesta. . . . Guy going up the ladder — Lou Guido, 115-163-192 in the City Minor. . . . Some secretaries still persist in sending in scores without first names of bowlers. . . . We can't guess them all, some will find their way into the waste basket. . . . Add Mildred Brannigan to the rare list of bowlers who have compiled 10 straight spares. She did it for 175 in the Friendship "B" League. . . . Lou De Paolo and Mrs. Ethel Levine of Poughkeepsie reported mulling plans for a 30-alley layout on the South Road, Poughkeepsie. . . . Carpenters are laying alley beds at Johnny Ferraro's new 26-alley tenpin palace on the East Chester street By-Pass extension. . . . Dick Hoover, ABC Masters champion and former All-Star kingpin, has been described by one of bowling's most noted authorities as having been invincible during the latter stages of the past season. Dick's three "300" games in 13 days are part of the basis for the unqualified endorsement. His 223, 227 and 221 league averages for his first full season after military service also back the endorsement.

• Best Among the Girls:

June Llewellyn of Cleveland, Ohio, leads the national women's scoring parade with a 716 series. Ann Marshall of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, tops the singles with 299. Marion Ladewig, the five-time women's All Star champion, was going at a 209 average for 21 games. Pat Dryer, Indianapolis, hit 200 in 27 games. Here are the national leaders:

HIGH THREE GAMES		HIGH INDIVIDUAL SINGLES
June Llewellyn, Cleveland	716	Ann Marshall, Milwaukee	299
Lee Mincer, Los Angeles	710	Helen Matalich, Sheboygan	279
Marge Slogar, Cleveland	705	Thelma Peterson, Detroit	279
Helen Duval, California	704	Virginia Fricke, St. Louis	279
Mary Cappo, Philadelphia	703	Angela Mica, St. Louis	279
Judy Maus, Ohio	701	Ora Ehl, Madison, Wis.	279

Tess Peterson of Poughkeepsie is on the national honor roll with a 277. Did somebody say something about the "weaker sex"?

Speiser Stops Hoepner in 2nd

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 29 (AP)—Detroit's Chuck Speiser, the No. 1 challenger among the light heavyweights, knocked out Willi Hoepner of Hamburg, Germany in the second round of their scheduled 10 rounder in the Milwaukee Arena last night. Speiser weighed 172¾; Hoepner 174¼.

The end came quickly for the left handed swinging German once the rugged Spieser went to work.

Hoepner, making his American debut, held his own in the first round as he scored with short left hooks to the body. Hoepner was rated sixth among the light heavyweights.

A sparse crowd of 2,550 saw Speiser win his 19th bout, 14th by a knockout. The gross gate was $6,150.20 and the net was $5,588.25 in the nationally televised bout (ABC).

Patterson's Jaw Key to Length Of Title Bout

Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—If Floyd Patterson can take a punch, Archie Moore may be in trouble tomorrow night when the world's heavyweight boxing title goes up for grabs at Chicago Stadium.

Patterson, considered a 21-year-old phenom, can be hit. Only once, however, has he been floored. That was by Jacques Royer-Crecy on July 12, 1954, Floyd's 15th bout as a pro.

"This fellow hit Floyd on the break with a right," recalls Cus D'Amato, manager of the 1952 Olympic middleweight champion. "I insisted it was a slip. Anyway Floyd got right up. He knocked out Royer-Crecy in the seventh."

Most of the other guys who have hit Patterson were feather dusters compared to the power-packed Moore, who has won 131 fights out of 156 and scored 90 knockouts.

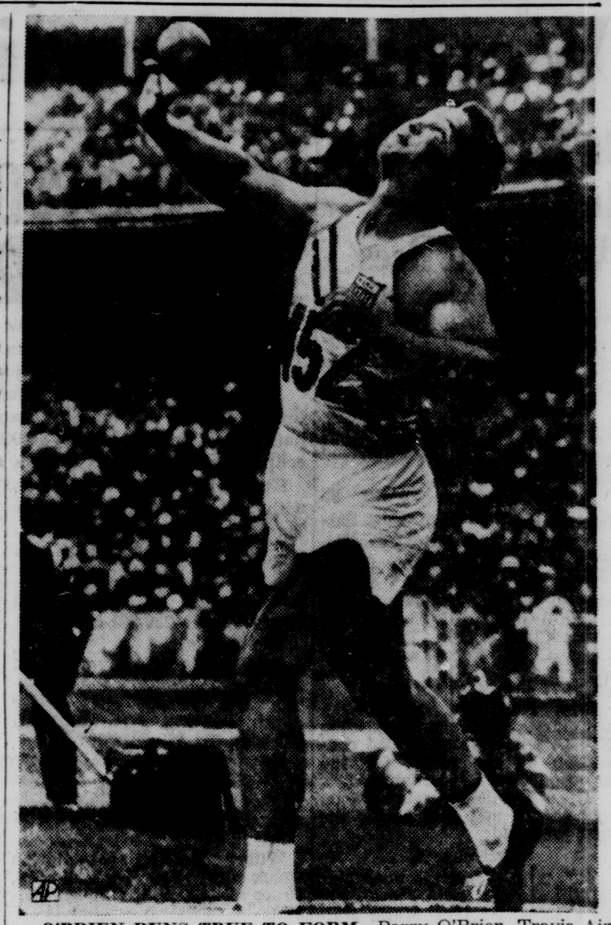

Early Test Due

Most experts feel that Moore will get a chance to test Floyd's chin early in the scheduled 15 rounder, which is being home televised and broadcast (NBC 10 p. m. EST) with Chicago and a 150 mile radius blacked out.

"If Moore hits Patterson early and the kid survives, then Moore is in trouble," one observer said. "But if Moore hits Patterson and hurts him, then he can call his own shots."

Patterson is a jolting hitter, who can rain punches with either hand but is not considered a one-punch knockout artist despite his record of 21 kayoes.

He figures to enter the ring weighing 182-183 pounds. Moore plans to come in at about 185. The official weigh-in will be at Chicago Stadium at noon tomorrow.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

When it is realized by owners of American cocker spaniels throughout the country that the 1956 National Cocker Field Trial Champion is a little undersized show dog whose immediate ancestors never dreamed of pushing a pheasant into a shotgun pattern, perhaps there'll be a little looking under the sofa.

Perhaps the scent of pheasant would cause that moist black nose to twitch a wigwag message to the other extremity. Maybe there is something behind those soft brown eyes that would impel those feathered paws in fast pursuit of a cagey rooster that tried to sneak around a hunter and his dog.

Few Bird Dogs

It's for sure there are few enough known bird dogs among the cocker clan. Somewhere, tucked away in the hundreds of thousands of homes that boast cockers as pets, there must be wasted talent, wasted spirit, frustrated desire to hunt, passed down through the generations of show dogs from the field dog parentage.

True, even the best prospect today might not be "geared to go" in the dense, low cover for which cockers were bred. Eyes may be poorly protected, feet may not be well made up, coat may be too profuse for burrs.

Out to Pasture

But if the dog is bold, if he has that spark possessed by the cockers of yesteryear, get him out of the parlor and into the pasture. Take him along the hedge rows and into a corn patch. If he seems to like what he's doing, if his body goes aquiver at the scent of a field mouse or his head snaps up at the whirring rise of a meadow lark, keep going until you push up a game bird with him.

If he shows interest and pleasure, you may have a gun dog prospect. If you have trouble getting him back to you, you do have a gun dog prospect—and an obligation to the field dog heritage of the breed. Get to a spiritual brother of your dog, my friend. Find a gun-dog man to help you to give your dog his due.

UCLA Is Urged To Leave PCC

Los Angeles, Nov. 28 (AP)—The president of UCLA said yesterday the executive council had recommended to Chancellor Raymond B. Allen that immediate steps be taken to withdraw Uclans from the Pacific Coast Conference.

Cyril C. Nigg today said the decision was based primarily upon the principles involved. When questioned further, Nigg said he was referring especially to conference penalties which limited football seniors to five games this season and deprived juniors and sophomores of one year eligibility.

The penalties were for financial aid over the conference limit to athletes.

Cy Young Memorial

Newcombe Named Best Pitcher in the Majors

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Don Newcombe was well prepared to argue his case for a sizeable salary increase today with the Cy Young Memorial Award added to his National League's Most Valuable Player prize.

The huge Brooklyn righthander, slated to hold a salary confab with Dodger Vice-President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi this afternoon was honored for the second time yesterday when he became the first winner of the annual award given to the outstanding pitcher of both major leagues.

The latest accolade is awarded in the memory of Denton (Cy) Young, the Hall of Fame pitcher who won an incredible total of 511 major league games.

Only last Nov. 20 Newcombe had been voted his league's MVP award, becoming the first pitcher to gain this honor since Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

Receives 10 of 16

Newcombe received 10 of the 16 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Sal Maglie, Don's pitching mate with the Dodgers, was runner-up with four votes. One vote each was given to southpaws Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and Ed (Whitey) Ford of the New York Yankees.

"I'm overwhelmed," was all the 225-pound, 6-4 pitcher could say when he was informed by telephone in his home in Colonia, N. J. "No one could possibly realize what these honors mean to me. They'll just make me work all the harder next year."

It is reliably reported that the big fell earned $27,000 last season. He probably will be hiked to about $30,000.

Texas Sandlotter Named Best of Year

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 29 (AP)—Toby Newton, 19-year-old southpaw pitcher from Galveston, Tex., today was named baseball's "Sandlotter of the Year."

Newton, now a junior at Texas A&M, pitched three of the wins which carried the Alpine, Tex., Cowboys to third place in the tournament sponsored here last summer by the National Baseball Congress.

In announcing the award, the Congress called him semi-pro baseball's "best young prospect for future stardom in the majors." He will receive a plaque at the 1957 Texas semi-pro tournament.

Distance Man

Detroit (NEA) — When Jim Doran of the Lions caught a 70-yard pass against the Washington Redskins this season it was the longest of his six-year professional football career.

Improved Pros

Evanston, Ill. (NEA)—Dow Finsterwald and Mrs. Marlene Hagge were elected the most improved golf professionals of 1956 by their fellow competitors.

Over Third Completed

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Eisenhower Lock, one of two being constructed by the United States in its portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway, is now better than one-third completed. This was reported today by Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. He said about 50 per cent of the total concrete in the huge lock will have been placed before winter weather forces a construction shutdown. More than 200,000 cubic yards of cement have been placed in the lock as of Oct. 31, Castle said in his latest progress report of seaway construction.

Radioactive Tests On Milk Suggested

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—The State Health Department is studying a proposal by a University of Rochester scientist that periodic spot checks be made of milk supplies for radioactive strontium 90. He said milk has a high calcium content and he believes it would be the best source for measuring the amount of strontium 90 fallout, a radioactive by-product of nuclear explosions. Its chemical properties are similar to those of calcium.

Scientists believe that absorbed in relatively high concentrations by the human body it might induce bone cancers or leukemia.

Neuman said the substance would show up in milk after being absorbed by cows grazing in the field or from their feed.

Match on Counter Believed Cause Of Store Fire

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—A match, carelessly flipped onto a doll counter, is believed to have caused a million-and-a-half dollar fire in the crowded shopping district of the Canadian border community.

The four-story J. J. Newberry store, which had been jammed with pre-Christmas shoppers, was wrecked yesterday. Three adjacent buildings, also housing stores, were damaged.

No injuries were reported. Scores of customers were led from the Newberry store by sales girls.

Alderman James S. Graham gave the damage estimate.

Firemen from ten communities, including two in Canada, fought the fire. They were hampered by sub-freezing temperatures and dense smoke.

James Schreiner, an assistant Newberry manager, said the fire broke out on a doll counter in the store's second-floor toyland. He and an employe tried unsuccessfully to extinguish the fire, he said.

Erie Hit Again By More Snow

Erie, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Heavy, wet snow buffeted this lakeport city again early today and paralyzed traffic at the peak morning rush hour.

Routes 5 and 20—still badly rutted by a two-foot snow fall Thanksgiving Day — were jammed with cars and trucks that failed to make a high grade.

Some cars skidded and left the highway but there were no reports of any serious injury.

Snow began to fall about 5 a. m. The forecast for northwestern Pennsylvania calls for moderate to heavy snow squalls near Lake Erie with falling temperatures throughout the day with a low of 15 tonight.

May Get Foot

In Washington yesterday, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted heavy snowfalls near Lake Erie and Ontario "may yield a foot or so Thursday and again Saturday or Sunday."

Robert J. Hickey, secretary to Mayor Arthur Gardner, said the fall was not unusual and "we're ready to meet any emergency with the experience we gained Thanksgiving Day."

In Pittsburgh, the U. S. Weather Bureau said the fresh fall accumulated between three to four inches and Erie could expect about the same amount during the day. About a foot of old snow remains on the ground.

Hinsdale Street Woman Injured, Hit by Ambulance

Mrs. Adam Argulewicz, 33, of 52 Hinsdale street, an expectant mother, was injured last night when struck at Broadway and Delaware avenue by a Civil Air Patrol ambulance.

A police report at 7:35 p. m., listed back injuries and bruises of the right arm, and said Mrs. Argulewicz was treated by a doctor.

The report said Victor H. Osborn, of Colonial Gardens, was operating the ambulance, owned by the New York Wing, Civil Air Patrol, USAF, 124 East 28th street, New York. It was headed west on Delaware avenue and made a left turn into Ray's Service Station at Broadway and Delaware avenue. Mrs. Argulewicz was walking on the Broadway side of the gas station.

Charles H. Schulenberg, of the Schultz Ambulance Service, called The Freeman to state that reports from some sources conveyed the impression that a Schultz ambulance was involved. The service, he said, has operated four years without mishap.

The CAP ambulance is used in conjunction with local civil defense operations.

Says Free Radio Played Unhappy Role in Hungary

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 29 (AP) —Anna Kethly, exiled president of the Hungarian Social Democrat party, said today Radio Free Europe played an unhappy role in the Hungarian revolution.

"The intentions were good but the results were not always happy," she told reporters. She arrived here last Monday for a short rest.

She said Radio Free Europe (RFE), a privately financed American radio station beamed toward Communist dominated states of Europe, in 1952 described her as the leader of a great liberation movement in Hungary.

"The broadcast," she said, "claimed that I was leading the underground liberation movement from my jail and it quoted the names of several leaders of that alleged movement."

"Radio Free Europe has gravely sinned by making the Hungarian people believe that western military aid was coming when no such aid was planned. Besides, we never asked or hoped for military aid, but for moral and diplomatic support. We were well aware that any armed western intervention meant a third world war with, as the first result, the complete destruction and annihilation of Hungary."

"This one look good," said police who have tracked down a score of fruitless leads in the past three weeks.
